

CHINA 'READY FOR WAR' IF LEAGUE FAILS TO END ROW

President Chiang Declares in Speech That Patience Has Been Tested to Last Degree and Nation Will Make Sacrifice.

EFFORT TO ARRANGE NEGOTIATIONS MADE

Japanese Foreign Minister and Chinese Envoy Discuss Tentative Plans for Settlement and Will Confer Again Later.

TOKIO, Oct. 12.—An effort to arrange negotiations to settle the Manchurian trouble between Japan and China, which has brought the affairs of the two nations to a crisis, was made here tonight by Foreign Minister Shidehara of Japan and Chinese Minister Chiang Tsoting.

The two ministers conferred for more than three hours. Shidehara was said to have outlined principles to be observed by negotiators should any be appointed.

These principles were thought to include evacuation of places seized by Japanese troops outside the South Manchurian Railway zone owned by Japan.

The Chinese Minister was understood to have named two Chinese military officers to take over the territory evacuated, the appointments to be satisfactory to Japan.

Another conference probably will be held Wednesday looking to final negotiations.

Peking, Oct. 12.—Chiang Kai-shek, President of China, in an address today said if the Council of the League of Nations, convening in urgent session at Geneva tomorrow, failed to obtain a "just settlement" of the Sino-Japanese conflict, "China will resort to force."

"I hereby declare," said the President, "that the national Government's patience has been tested to the last degree. China respects the League covenant and the Kellogg signatures fail to fulfill their solemnly undertaken obligations.
China will not hesitate to make the supreme sacrifice—sacrifice to country for half a century and go to war to uphold the security of international agreements and safeguard the peace of the world."

Chiang said, however, the Nanking Government hoped the League Council would take effective measures to settle the Sino-Japanese trouble. He said China also trusted that the League would "properly punish" Japan on the ground that the latter had refused to abide by the League's decisions and occupied Chinese territory without justification.

"Obliged to Make Appeal,"
The President, who also is Commander-in-Chief of the Chinese army and navy, said his country had appealed to the League in this emergency not as a supplicant for protection, but because the League prevented obliged its members to show such a course. Chiang's speech was delivered at the Government's weekly memorial service.

Officers of the Nationalist Government formulated a reply to the most Japanese protest at an emergency meeting here yesterday.

The Japanese Government will be held responsible for the consequences," Chiang said, warning that the Chinese Government will be held responsible for the consequences of any Japanese aggression.

Meanwhile, the Nanjing Government had dispatched a note to Tokyo protesting against the bombing of the Japanese liner, the Asama Maru, by Japanese planes. President Mukden headquarters of the Japanese army in Manchuria ordered the planes dropped bombs on the Japanese troops.

The Associated Press was informed that China's reply to the Japanese note will say the anti-Japanese movement in China was sparked by the invasion of Manchuria by Japan and that unless Japanese acts are committed which the Chinese Government cannot tolerate, it will stop it.

"Trying to Protect Japanese," The note will say, an official told the Associated Press, "The Nationalist Government is making every effort to protect Japanese and their property and the fact that there is no other way to do so."

CORNWALLIS SCION
MEETS KINSMAN OF
GEO. WASHINGTON

Descendant of Vanquished Shakes Hands With Great Grand-Nephew of Victor.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—Lord Cornwallis, to use his own words, yesterday "patched up the ancient differences between Great Britain and the United States" by shaking the hand of W. Sheldon Washington, great grand-nephew of the General who forced the surrender of the nobleman's ancestor in the decisive battle of the Revolutionary War.

The ceremony took place on the steps of George Washington's headquarters at Valley Forge. It illlustrated the day's celebration commemorating the 200th anniversary of the founding of Masonry in Pennsylvania.

Lord Cornwallis, right worshipful deputy grand master of the British Masons, is here as the personal representative of the Duke of Connaught, Grand Master of the United Lodge of England. Lord Cornwallis will attend the Yorktown pageant before sailing for England Oct. 28.

answer to a question that he "can't see any reason why Brit-

AL CAPONE'S AUTOS
COST $12,500, U. S.
SHOWS IN TAX CASE

$18 to $27.50 Each Paid for Shirts and $4.85 for Neckties, Government Wit-

AID TO GANGSTER
HELD WITHOUT BAIL

Philip D'Andrea, Bodyguard, Must Defend Self Tomorrow for Taking Pistol Into Court.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—"Scarface" Al Capone was without a bodyguard today as he heard his private affairs discussed before a jury in United States Circuit Court where he is on trial for income tax evasion.

Philip D'Andrea, Capone's bodyguard and companion during the trial, is in the county jail, facing a contempt of court charge for carrying a pistol into court.

Capone's two attorneys were busy making light of the Government's testimony in his income tax trial.
It was all old stuff to Capone—how he paid $12,500 for automobiles, $27.50 for shirts, $4.85 for neckties.

For a man who never paid an income tax, the Government attempted to show that Capone was considerable of a spendthrift. When he wanted an automobile he ordered one especially made to suit his purposes and paid $12,500 for it. When he ran short of shirts, he stopped in at a large Loop department store, ordered a dozen custard made, at $15 to $27.50 each.

Furniture purchased in 1923 for the Palm Island (Fla.) estate of the gangster cost $1289.15 and was promptly paid for, testified Jean Rieves, bookkeeper. It included a $60 pair of Chinese bowls and a cigar case, price not stated.

Chinese Rug $1312.
Chinese rug sent to Capone's Chicago home cost $1312. Ruth M.
Mince testified $325 worth were sent to the Florida estate and $706 to the Capone office in a Chicago hotel.

Guy C. Duxton, the salesman who ordered Capone's custard built automobile in 1924, said the $12,500 car was traded in and $3500 cash added for a new one two years later.

Two department store employees who sold the gangster his haberdashery said that when the "big fellow" bought himself some finery he usually purchased some more for the men who accompanied him.
For instance, one occasion in 1923, when he bought for himself 28 $4.95 ties and 28 $2.75 handkerchiefs, he also fitted out three companions with six ties and six handkerchiefs each.

Interior Decoration.
C. A. Roy, interior decorator of Miami Beach, Fla., testified that for his work in 1929 and 1930 on the Capone estate in Florida he was paid about $1500, always in currency.

The gangster's preference for elephants carved from ivory as ornaments was disclosed by F. L.
Wehrman, a furniture salesman who said he sold Capone "between $3000 and $4000 worth of home furnishings" during 1927, 1928 and 1929. Several items for elephants were listed.

Johanna Sullivan said the auto sales company which employed her as bookkeeper sold Capone an automobile for $5380.75.

Nobody Would Sign Register.
Capone's habit of moving from one hotel to another in Chicago was described by Clerk Housen of the Lexington Hotel, which is still the gangster's headquarters.

When the gang leader and his retinue moved to the Lexington July 30, 1928, "I could get nobody to sign the register," Housen testified. He said he made up some names himself, signing "George Phillips" for the three-room suite occupied by Capone, and "Joseph Jacobs and family" for several other rooms in which Capone's "boys" lived. There may have been 10 or 15, maybe 20, in the party, Housen said.

He had nothing to do with the bills, Housen said, but he understood "Butsie" paid for everything. He did not identify "But-sie" but spelled the name carefully to court reporters.

Russell Garnett of Miami testified he had leased Capone a home for the winter of 1927-28 for $2500.
This was before the gangster bought his Palm Island estate at Miami Beach.

Aid Held Without Bail.
D'Andrea was told today that he was in serious difficulties and was given until tomorrow to defend himself. Meanwhile he was ordered held without bail.

HOOVER ASSAILS
MAKING HEROES OF CRIMINALS

Would Displace Glorification of Cowardly Gangsters With Exaltation of Law Officers.

TALKS BY RADIO
TO POLICE CHIEFS

Deplores Loopholes in Statutes That Permit Irresponsible Lawyers to Protect the Guilty.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—"Change in public sentiment, shifting from the criminal to the policeman, the role of popular heroism was advocated today by President Hoover as one means of stamping out excessive crime."

In a radio message to the opening meeting of the International Association of Chiefs of Police at St. Petersburg, Fla., he condemned the "glorification of cowardly gangsters." The President spoke from the Cabinet room of the White House.

The President's address follows:
"It is my privilege on behalf of the Government to greet the delegates to the thirty-eighth annual convention of the International Association of Police Chiefs meeting at St. Petersburg. I wish to add a cordial welcome to those delegates and guests who have come from beyond our borders."

"In the United States a major responsibility rests upon the shoulders of our Chiefs of Police. Ours is a form of government where the task and responsibility of maintenance of organized society throughout its never-ending battle against crime rests upon each local community."

Making Heroes of Criminals.
"The Chiefs of Police occupy a position of high command in that service. In not a few of our communities the police have been subject to criticism. That criticism arises from a misunderstanding and not the rule in police conduct."

"Moreover, there is a sentimentalism in some people which makes popular heroes out of criminals which needs replacement by a sensible, mentally sound and reasonable hero of the policeman for the courage and devotion he shows in protection of our citizens."

Instead of the glorification of cowardly gangsters we need the glorification of policemen who do their duty and give their lives in public protection.

"The police perform an unending task, not alone in the mothering of the children, but in the maintenance of the good humored dissolution of traffic jams, but in this incessant war against criminals."

"If the police had the vigilant, universal backing of public opinion in their communities, if they had the implacable support of the prosecuting authorities and the courts, if our criminal laws in their in-deavor to protect the innocent did not furnish loopholes through which irresponsible, yet clever criminal lawyers daily find devices of escape for the guilty, I am convinced that our police would stamp out the excessive crime and remove the world-wide disrepute which has disgraced some of our great cities."

Defeating the Law.
"The police by instinct are the enemies of gang activities, robberies, holdups, and ruthless murder. But so long as criminals can proceed with the smug assurance that they can defeat the law there is a constant discouragement to the police. I wonder at times that they maintain the vigilance and courage they do against the odds with which they have to contend."

"I extend to you my cordial good wishes for a helpful conference.
I know there will emerge from collective council at your meeting an increased clarity and resourcefulness and deeper devotion in advancement of public welfare. I look forward confidently to the day when the moral forces of every community will rally to your support in the fight against crime everywhere."

TO LIGHT STATUE BY RADIO
Marconi, in Italy, Will Illuminate New Work in Brazil.

By the Associated Press.
RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 12.—The statue of Christ the Redeemer on Corcovado Mountain will be illuminated at 7:15 p. m. today by reflectors lighted by radio by Senator Guglielmo Marconi from the Italian radio station Colonna.

Ten thousand persons who have come here for the dedication of the statue today filled the city's hotels and crowded the principal churches at special services. President Getulio Vargas and Cardinal Sebastiao Leme were to attend the dedication exercises.

YOUTH ARRESTED
AT CHURCH ADMITS HOLDUP SHOOTING

Thomas H. Greenwood Jr.
Confesses Five Robberies and Wounding of Store Manager.

TRACED BY LICENSE
PLATE ON HIS AUTO

Police Notice Car Parked Near House of Worship and Capture of Salesman Follows.

Thomas Hamilton Greenwood Jr., a young salesman, with no previous police record, was arrested as he came out of church yesterday because his automobile was a Pennsylvania license resembled one used in several recent hold-ups.

Indignant at first, he confessed, after being identified, that he had robbed three gasoline filling stations, two Kroger groceries, and had shot the manager of a Kroger store when attempting a sixth holdup Friday morning.

Greenwood, 23 years old, residing with his parents at 1123 Pes-taozzi street, said the robberies were committed because he was "a little hard up."

At 11:30 a. m., Sergt. William Imken and Patrolman James F. Thompson of the Wyoming street station, noticed a maroon Chevrolet coach with Pennsylvania license plates parked near the Olive Branch Congregational Church, 2201 Sidney street.

Recalling that such a car had been described by victims and witnesses of recent robberies, they telephoned Police Capt. Agee, who with four men, waited in hiding for the driver of the car to arrive.

Shortly after noon, two young men and a girl came out of the church and got in the coach. Capt. Agee and his men approached the car and asked the driver to accompany them to the station.

Clerks Identify Greenwood.
The man, a Socialist,
also was under custody and the girl, his sister, went home with friends. At the police station the dentist was speedily released but remained in custody of the Chevrolet, was held despite his protestations.

Capt. Agee sent for two clerks in the Kroger store at 2339 Park avenue where the manager, Horace L.
Ettinger, was shot in the face and seriously wounded. Both said Greenwood was the robber.

"And I suppose they think they're right," said Greenwood.
"I'll tell you how it was. My car was parked outside the store and I was on my way in when a man came unning out and bumped into me and knocked my hat off. He jumped into my car and drove away. I ran after him and after two blocks, he got into another car and abandoned mine. I took my car then and went on about my business."

It was a good explanation. Too good, in fact, Capt. Agee thought.
He had been about to question Greenwood on the fact that just outside the store, after Ettinger was shot, a car was seen leaving the initials T. H. G. Jr. Here was the hat he explained. He took Greenwood to City Hospital where Ettinger identified him. Several other robberies identified him also from Mahatma Gandhi.

He said today he was putting
the welfare of the nation above party politics in the present campaign.

"It's the most important election in a long time," he said. "What I say is keep unity. So far as I am concerned I am not going to enter into any small party squabbles. I want the nation to give a verdict
that a government is going to be returned, the first duty of which will be to see the country through
its present difficulties."

Several hundred saw him off at London, cheering and crying "Good old Ramsay."

PILOT AND TWO BOYS KILLED IN CRASH OF BURNING PLANE

Ship Suddenly Catches Fire and Falls to Airport at Walden, lot and two boys passengers were killed yesterday in a crash of an airplane which suddenly caught fire while flying over this neighborhood and crashed at Walden Airport. The bodies were burned.

The dead: Egon Peizerder, the pilot; Carl Simons, 15, and Nicholas Sanrocco, 12, both of Freeport.

The father of Carl Simons was at the field and saw the ship fall. The cause of the fire was not deter-

"GOOD OLD RAMSAY"
65 YEARS OLD TODAY

Durham Miners Pack Village

By the Associated Press.
DURHAM, England, Oct. 12.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald addressed Durham's coal miners tonight in opening the campaign in which he expects to win re-election to the House of Commons. He was 65 years old today.

It was in the only theater in this mining village and the house was packed. The men who came to listen to what he had to say wore slouch hats and old clothes. There were no collars and ties, but instead men had mufflers twisted around their necks. There was only a handful of women.

"I have confidence in the Durham miner," said MacDonald.
Then he paused, for there was a burst of cheering.

He plunged into an explanation of the Government's complicated problems and its efforts to untangle the financial situation. A heckler interrupted but the Prime Minister silenced him.

"You be quiet, my friend," he said, "and you'll be a wiser man."
The crowd roared its approval.

MacDonald is the guest here of his friend, the village doctor. When he reached his home today he found a birthday cake with 65 candles.

ing King George sent birthday greetings and there was a message
also from Mahatma Gandhi.

party politics in the present campaign.

"It's the most important election in a long time," he said. "What I say is keep unity. So far as I am concerned I am not going to enter
want the nation to give a verdict
its present difficulties."

Several hundred saw him off at
old Ramsay."

U. S. SUPREME COURT REJECTS NEW PLEA BY DR. MACINTOSH

Yale Professor and War Nurse Sought Rehearing on Citizenship Application.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Plea that the Supreme Court reconsider its stand that an applicant for citizenship must take an oath to fight, if necessary, for this country today failed.

The decision ended hope that Prof. Douglas C. Macintosh of Yale and Marie Averil Bland, former war nurse, might become citizens without taking an unqualified oath to bear arms if called upon to do so by the Government. Both are Canadians.

The five Justices who combined to refuse citizenship to the pair last term and the four who dissented, including Chief Justice Hughes, passed today upon the petitions for rehearing.

The Chief Justice, son of a Baptist minister, delivered the dissenting opinion last term.

Dr. Macintosh served overseas during the World War, but in taking the oath, he insisted that he be permitted to decide whether a war was just before he took up arms.

Miss Bland, now a resident of

GRANDI, ITALIAN FOREIGN MINISTER, TO VISIT HOOVER

Following Trip of French Premier to America, He Will Arrive to Discuss Disarmament.

WORLD ECONOMICS TO BE CONSIDERED

Invitation Sent by State Department After Mussolini Indicated He Could Not Go to U. S.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Italy's statesman who proposed the one-year naval holiday and President Hoover will discuss personally next month the intricacies of disarmament and world economics.

Following closely the visit to Washington of Premier Laval of France, Signor Grandi, Foreign Minister of Italy, will arrive in early November. No decision has been reached yet as to whether British and German statesmen also will come here for similar discussions.

Conversations between both the French and Italian statesmen and Mr. Hoover are certain to drift swiftly from disarmament to economics.

President Hoover, in his search for world economic recovery, has voiced repeatedly a belief that while European nations continue to spend enormous sums on armaments they cannot alleviate materially their financial troubles.

His advisors have suggested that in discussions with Premier Laval, drastic European disarmament must be considered in connection with further curtailment of war debts and reparations payments. No deviation from this policy is likely during the visit of Minister Grandi.

Purpose of Meetings. From these two informal meetings, President Hoover is hopeful of laying the groundwork for successful decreasing of military and naval expenditures after the disarmament conference next February.

Neither France nor Italy were full parties to the London disarmament treaty and any pledges by them for arms cuts would improve the outlook for the February conference.

The State Department, in announcing the approaching visit of Grandi, said he would sail from Naples for New York on Nov. 7. He will spend about 10 days in this country.

The formal invitation to Signor Grandi was delivered Saturday in Rome and its acceptance was immediately announced. The State Department said "the President would have been pleased to have received the head of the Italian Government, but knowing that he could not avail himself at this time of such an invitation, the Secretary of State has expressed to the Italian Minister for Foreign Affairs the pleasure it would give him if he would visit Washington."

The invitation to Grandi stated that "both the President and the Secretary of State feel that such an opportunity for personal acquaintance and discussion would be of the greatest value."

Mussolini Declined Invitation to Go to Washington. By the Associated Press. ROME, Oct. 12.—Dino Grandi will be accompanied to the United States by his personal assistant, Guido Rocco, and a number of secretaries, but will take along no other political or economic experts.

The Foreign Minister's visit will be in return for that of Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson to Rome last July.

President Hoover first inquired through the American Embassy if Premier Mussolini would consider going to visit him. As Mussolini preferred not to leave Italy, having already declined an invitation to Berlin, President Hoover invited Grandi, who also intends to go to Berlin about Oct. 25, as Mussolini's representative.

Eastern China's Network of Railroads

Possession by Japan of Interests In China Basic Cause of Friction Manifest in Recent Clashes

THE fundamental cause of friction between the Chinese and Japanese is the possession by Japan of interests in China, particularly in Manchuria, where the Japanese own and control the South Manchuria Railway. After defeating Russia in 1905, Japan took over, through a treaty with China, the Russian concession in Manchuria, consisting of a railway from Changchun, in Northern Manchuria, to Port Arthur on the Yellow Sea. The concession included a lease of Kwantung territory, the small peninsula jutting out into the Yellow Sea at the southern extremity of Manchuria, where Port Arthur was situated. It included, also, a line which Japan has hastily built during the Russian war from Antung, on the Korean border, to Mukden, where it joined the main line. The line extended 30 years and included a right-of-way on each side of the railroad, as well as concessions for coal mines in Fuchang, iron mines and factories.

Japan developed the railways into a thoroughly equipped and highly efficient system. Subsequently, Japan built a railroad from Changchun to Tientsin, with the permission of the Chinese, intending to continue the line to the coast of the Sea of Japan as a short route from Northern Manchuria to Japan. The Chinese, however, stopped it at Tientsin. The Japanese built about 30 miles from Port Arthur, the port of Dairen, one of the best ports in the Orient. The only good port in Manchuria giving access for steamers lines through the Yellow Sea to the Pacific Ocean. Japan controls 444 miles of railway in Manchuria.

Clash With Chinese Troops. During the World War the Japanese defeated the Germans at Tsingtao in Shantung province of China proper, across the Yellow Sea from Dairen, and took over German concessions which consisted of the city of Tsingtao and a railway line to Tientsin, with contiguous territory. Subsequently, under strong protest, Japan gave up this concession, but retained a financial interest in the railway with the privilege of appointing several officials to safeguard its interests. It was at Tsingtao, the terminus of this line, that the Japanese, on the plea of protecting Japanese residents, had a clash with Gen. Chiang-Kai-shek on his march from Canton to Peking. Chiang-Kai-shek avoided war, but the attack of the Japanese caused widespread resentment throughout China. Japanese soldiers were accused of shooting down Chinese women and women, without discrimination. That feeling of resentment has never been allayed, but strengthened. And through the propaganda of the Nanking government and Chinese organizations against foreign concessions of any kind in China has been centered on the South Manchuria railway, which runs through the heart of Manchuria and handles a great part of the traffic, especially the foreign trade, through Dairen.

Anti-Japanese Feeling. The Chinese complain that the treaty under which Japan leases the railroad and these territories was forced upon them. The Chinese have continually nagged the Japanese and attempted to undermine their railroad system by building—in violation of the treaty den and sent soldiers to other points outside of its privileged zone. The South Manchuria Railway is extremely valuable to the Japanese, not only on account of the access it gives them to raw materials in Manchuria and its profitable traffic and trade, but from the standpoint of protective military strategy. The railroad system and the port offer a strong safeguard against attack by either the Chinese or Russians.

Russian Railway Holding. The Russians own a half interest in the Chinese Eastern Railway, which runs from the Trans-Siberian Railway to Vladivostok with a branch from Harbin to Changchun, the terminus of the South Manchuria line. It will be recalled that the Chinese turned the Russians out of the Chinese Eastern Railway two years ago, but were compelled by military force to restore the Russian rights.

The Nanking Government, with its lack of resources and many troubles on account of factional rebellions, flood and famine, is not in a position to undertake war. And Chang Hsue-liang, the young Manchurian war lord, under conditions with which he has to deal, would hardly be guilty of the folly of going to war with Japan. The popular hatred of Japan in both Manchuria and China proper makes the situation critical and difficult to handle.

Reichsbank 18 months ago, the Finance Minister said, it has been discovered that the total foreign indebtedness is higher than had been thought, but he added the Finance Ministry has no control over private debts that do not pass through the banks.

Banks Renewing $100,000,000 Credit to Reichsbank. BASIL, Switzerland, Oct. 12.—The Bank for International Settlements at its monthly session today renewed its quarter share in the $100,000,000 credit to the German Reichsbank which normally would expire Nov. 4. It was expected that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and the Banks of England and France would renew their quarter shares also.

The World Bank, in association with the Bank of England, also renewed the 119,000,000 shillings credit to the National Bank of Australia, which would have expired on Oct. 16.

Earthquake Shocks Recorded. PASADENA, Cal., Oct. 12.—Six distinct earthquake shocks have been recorded within the last 24 hours on the seismograph of the Carnegie Institution. The heaviest three were recorded at 7:12:35 p. m. Sunday; 8:05:23 p. m. Sunday and 5:36:23 a. m. today.

Tokio Disclaims Ambition. The Japanese Government has disclaimed any territorial or political aims in Manchuria and declares its sole objective is the development of Manchurian resources and trade, but asserts its determination to retain its rights under the treaties with China and to protect Japanese lives and property. It went to protect lives and property from alleged attacks by Chinese civilians and soldiers that Japan seized Mukden and sent soldiers to other points outside of its privileged zone. The South Manchuria Railway is extremely valuable to the Japanese, not only on account of the access it gives them to raw materials in Manchuria and its profitable traffic and trade, but from the standpoint of protective military strategy. The railroad system and the port offer a strong safeguard against attack by either the Chinese or Russians.

Present trouble was caused by an attack of Chinese farmers on settlers from Korea, now Japanese subjects. The Koreans in China, numbering about 1,000,000, have complained of persecution by the Chinese and Japanese police courts handling their cases. A group of Korean settlers had been induced by Chinese agents to buy land at Wanpaoshan, near Changchun, with pledges of permission to be permitted to dam the Stung River and dig irrigation ditches for the cultivation of rice. When the Koreans attempted to build the dam and dig the ditches, Chinese farmers objected for various reasons and attacked the Koreans, with the backing of Chinese police, and destroyed their work. In the attacks on Japanese police was sent to protect them. A clash occurred between the Japanese police and the Chinese farmers, but there were no casualties.

This Wanpaoshan incident was greatly magnified in publications in Korea and in China. The Chinese declared that the Japanese police had gone out of their zone to attack the Chinese farmers and had killed several of them. This version it was spread over China and the feeling was greatly aggravated by the reprisals of the Koreans in Korea who mobbed Chinese there and destroyed both their lives and property. The Chinese also accused the Japanese Government of promoting the disorders against the Chinese in Korea and in Manchuria in order to seize additional territory. Japanese police took possession of Manchuria. Anti-Japanese boycott associations were revived and anti-Japanese feeling was aroused to a high pitch, resulting in the attacks on Japanese and Japanese property in Manchuria. The attack on C. T. Wang, Chinese Foreign Minister, by Chinese students of Nanking demonstrates the intensity of feeling. The Nanking Government has tried to allay the feeling and restrain disorder but without much effect.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 12.—The trial of State Representative Clifford C. Rens of the Second St. Louis District on a charge of forgery, in connection with alleged padding of the House clerical payroll during the 1931 session of the Legislature, began today in Cole County Circuit Court here. Rens is charged with forging an indorsement to a House clerical warrant for $11.50, and with possessing and uttering the forged indorsement.

The jury selected to try Rens is composed of nine Cole County farmers, two former guards at the Missouri penitentiary and a barber. The members are: Henry Hentges, J. K. Smith, Andrew Shannon, Steve Bode, Ben Hagner, Dell Simons, Alois Prenter, J. A. Farmer and Leo Hunepohl, all farmers; D. The jury was selected from the same panel from which a jury was selected last week for the bribery trial of State Representative Edward L. Britain of Greene County. Eight members of the jury chosen for the Rens trial are members of the jury which acquitted Britain last Wednesday.

The minimum penalty for first-degree forgery, of which Rens is accused, is 10 years in the penitentiary, or the maximum life imprisonment.

Bogus Huegel Brought Into Case. An attempt by the defense to prevent the State from putting before the jury the fact that Rens produced a "ringer" for his House clerk, when Prosecuting Attorney Sevier was investigating the alleged forgery by Rens of a warrant before the jury, failed. Judge Martin Smith today of the murder of Eugene Duckworth and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The youth changed his plea of not guilty immediately after his trial was called.

China "Will Resort to War" If League Conference Fails

had not been any attack on Japanese lives or property in the territory controlled by Nanking is silent proof of the Chinese Government's desire and ability to protect the Japanese.

"If Japan desires to end the anti-Japanese movement, it is for her to abide by the resolution of the League of Nations' Council and withdraw her troops and restore conditions as they existed prior to her invasion last month of Chinese territory."

"Japan should realize that dispatching of additional warships to Chinese waters would aggravate the situation and intensify the anti-Japanese movement and the Japanese Government must be held responsible for the consequences of its own ill-advised policy."

Japan Regards Situation as Purely Local Affair. TOKIO, Oct. 12.—Publication of Washington dispatches indicating the United States may intervene "softly spoken but forcefully" in the Sino-Japanese crisis was followed today by a statement that Japan abides by a "hands-off" policy announced after the Mukden outbreak last month.

A Foreign Office spokesman declared Japan considers the Manchurian situation a purely local affair that should be settled between China and Japan. He reiterated that Japan stands ready to discuss peace measures as soon as China gives assurances that she is prepared to protect the lives and property of Japanese residents in Manchuria districts now occupied by Japanese troops.

China yesterday served another ultimatum on the Japanese Government demanding that her troops be recalled within the South Manchuria railway zone within a week.

It was understood the Chinese Minister and Baron Shidehara, Japanese Foreign Minister, have been seeking for several days to draw up a plan for the Manchurian Government again to assume responsibility for Japanese lives and property in Manchuria.

Newspapers here devote much space to the arrival of the ashes of 22 Japanese killed during the fighting in Manchuria. Huge crowds gathered at various stations to meet the funeral train, which was en route to Sendai. All the victims were members of the Fourth Infantry stationed at the latter city. After a military funeral, the spirits of the dead will be enshrined.

Gen. Soroku Suzuki, president of the Imperial Reserve Officers' Association, composed of 3,000,000 men, notified Minister of War Minami that the organization had resolved that "no third party's intervention should be accepted" for a solution of the Sino-Japanese difficulties in Manchuria, which involves the maintenance of Japanese rights and interests legitimately gained and the promotion of Sino-Japanese mutual prosperity."

Ten Chinese Killed, 90 Injured in Canton. By the Associated Press. CANTON, China, Oct. 12.—Anti-Japanese feeling flared into violence here Saturday night and left 10 dead and 90 injured, all Chinese. Of the wounded, 30 were in a serious condition.

Police clashed with a mob of Chinese following a student meeting at which speakers urged a complete halt to the riotous police. When the students attempted to enter a foreign store, police arrested their leader and started for the police station. The mob followed.

Unable to halt the riotous police, fired several shots, killing, among others, a merchant sitting in front of a restaurant opposite the police station.

Subsequently students wrecked a store allegedly owned by a police Captain, burning its contents in the street. They also cut mooring cables of lighters unloading Japanese goods.

Officers finally restored order, but Chief Chen-Hing-wan was reported to have resigned.

SUIT TO HALT ILLINOIS TERMINAL EXCAVATION

Realty Co. Seeks Injunction to Stop Work Adjacent to Its Property.

Suit for an injunction restraining the Illinois Terminal Railroad System from proceeding with the excavation adjoining property of the Rhode Island Realty Co., which owns the city block which includes the southwest corner of High and Morgan streets, was filed this afternoon in Circuit Court.

Circuit Judge Roskopf, after conferring in his chambers with Robert W. Kratky, attorney for the realty company, and William J. Gilbert, representing the Terminal Co., decided to take the case on this time on the petition. It was agreed that the Terminal Co. should notify him 48 hours before it begins to excavate near the property involved in the frame which is occupied today by a restaurant, which is on ground in process of being condemned by the city.

The Rhode Island Realty Co., which is owned by a syndicate of St. Louis business men, did not know the names of the owners, he said, except Stewart Lengendre, who is employed in the law office.

Gilbert said the Terminal Co. could proceed with its excavation without interfering with any property owned by the Rhode Island Co.

The injunction suit alleges that the excavation will demolish adjoining buildings owned by real company and endanger the because of quick-sand in the soil.

It is alleged that no proper permit has been obtained for the work and before such a permit can be issued it will be necessary to obtain the consent of the owners of more than half of the property which fronts on the excavation.

D'Andrea's defense is expected to be that he once received a star and a permit to carry a firearm as a deputy municipal court bailiff and that he thought the permit was still valid, although the present chief bailiff said the star had been revoked.

ROY C. TOOMBS TO GO TO PRISON PENDING APPEAL

Appellate Court Refuses Bond to Former President of International Life Insurance Co.

Roy C. Toombs, former president of the International Life Insurance Co., must go to Leavenworth penitentiary and remain there while the United States Circuit Court of Appeals is considering his appeal from his two years' sentence for misuse of the mails, imposed by District Judge Davis.

The District Attorney's office was notified by telegram today that the Court of Appeals, sitting in Omaha, denied Toombs' petition for release on bond pending his appeal.

Toombs was released early in August from the Missouri penitentiary where he served 17 months and nine days of a two-year term imposed by the State court for issuing unauthorized stock of the insurance company. He was under indictment in Federal Court on the charge of using the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud.

Both the State and Federal charges grew out of the transactions by which Toombs removed $152,000 of the insurance company's assets in transactions with his Chicago brokerage firms, throwing the company into bankruptcy.

Because of the similarity of the charges, Toombs and his lawyers supposed that the Federal Court would be willing to accept a plea and admit him to parole, possibly imposing a fine but not a prison sentence.

In this expectation Toombs went before Judge Davis Sept. 26 and entered a plea of nolo contendere (no contest) to the Federal charge.

Judge Davis, on receiving the plea, sentenced Toombs to two years, Toombs and his lawyer, Patrick H. Cullen, asked that he be permitted to withdraw his plea and stand trial.

Cullen said he had gained the impression, in conversation with Judge Davis and District Attorney Brewer, that Toombs could obtain a parole on entering a plea, though no definite commitment was made by either.

Judge Davis refused to grant the motion for changing Toombs' plea, and he refused to grant Toombs' release on appeal bond. The motion for a superceded order, to admit Toombs to bond pending his appeal, was argued by Cullen and his lawyer before the Court of Appeals in Omaha, last week.

While he was on an alcoholic spree. His punishment, however, is the usual penalty for the offense.

Dowdy, 24 years old, was stopping at the Claridge Hotel, under the name of James G. Hefferman, at the time of the robbery. He was captured May 20, by Mrs. Marianne Kobermann, a customer in the hosiery shop of Miss Ida Wetzel at 3106 South Grand boulevard, when Dowdy held up Miss Wetzel and fled with $34.

Mrs. Kobermann followed him to a taxicab nearby, jumped on the running board and shouted until men came to hold Dowdy for the police. After his arrest he confessed that two days before he had held up a branch of the Union Electric Light and Power Co., at 249 Lemay Ferry road, taking $40.

In both robberies he carried a small automatic pistol.

EDISON DEFINITELY FAILING DAY TO DAY, DOCTOR SAYS

Loss Is Very Gradual, Due to Great Vitality and Strong Heart. By the Associated Press.

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 12.—Thomas A. Edison was said by his doctor today to be definitely failing from day to day despite the fact that each day's loss was very small.

Dr. Hubert S. Howe, the inventor's physician, visited the Edison home as usual shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. After a thorough examination he sent his regular written bulletin to the reporters, but remained in the sick room to make further observations.

Dr. Edison's great vitality and strong heart are still keeping him in good stead. He is definitely failing from day to day, but it is a very gradual loss. He had a comparatively good night.

Dr. Howe told reporters in five days Mr. Edison was taken out of bed yesterday and placed in a chair to rest his back. He also was able to take a little nourishment.

Dr. Howe told reporters the inventor was slowly sinking into the coma which precedes death. He said Edison had no fluids for a week and almost no nourishment of any kind.

In the past 72 hours, he said, Edison's only nourishment had been six teaspoonsful of stewed pears. The inventor no longer recognizes anyone.

EDITH GOULD WAINWRIGHT REPORTED SEEKING DIVORCE

Reno Attorney Refuses to Confirm Report That Suit Has Been Filed.

RENO, Nev., Oct. 12.—Edith Gould Wainwright is thought to have secretly filed suit here Saturday for a divorce from her artist husband, Carroll Livingston Wainwright, with whom she eloped in 1919.

Mrs. Wainwright's attorney refused to say that he had filed suit on behalf of the daughter of the late George J. Gould, although he admitted that his office had registered a secret complaint with the County Clerk.

Every effort has been made to shield Mrs. Wainwright's identity since she came to Nevada more than six weeks ago. She has been residing, it was learned recently, in a Nevada mountain lodge.

"VELVET TONGUE KID" GETS 10 YEARS FOR MURDER

Harry Casey to Start Four Year Term; Killed Winfield Seeman in Saloon Brawl.

HARRY CASEY, who has served three prison terms during his 40 years, was sentenced today to 10 years in the penitentiary today for second-degree murder and assault to kill.

He was indicted for first-degree murder, but was permitted to plead guilty to the lesser charge.

Casey, ironically dubbed by his associates "the Velvet-Tongue Kid," because of the bitterness of his vilification of police officers, shot and killed Winfield Seeman in a brawl in a river-front saloon at 4116 South Main street last July 6. Seeman was a former convict.

Police reported Seeman was killed when he threatened an associate of Casey during a quarrel over Mrs. Seeman. Casey exchanged shots with police officers who arrived as Seeman's body was being carried away from the saloon. He was wounded in the hand.

MAN FOUND SLAIN IN ROAD IDENTIFIED AS THEFT SUSPECT

Edward Unger, 20, Had Been Sought for Month for Questioning About Drug Store Burglary.

The body of a murdered man, found beside a road a mile east of Fenton Saturday afternoon, was identified yesterday as that of Edward Unger, 20 years old, formerly of 2726A Chippewa street, whom police had been seeking for the last month for questioning in the burglary of a drug store.

Proceeding on the theory that Unger might have been slain by criminal associates, police today arrested two men of a group of four who previously had said they were implicated with Unger in the burglary at the Winkelman Pharmacy, 2800 Chippewa street, the night of Sept. 11. The four, arrested a few days afterward, admitted the burglary, but all named Unger as the man who had broken into the store and had taken $92 worth of merchandise, including a gallon of grain alcohol. The two under arrest deny any knowledge of how Unger met his death.

Identification was made by Unger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Unger, 2726A Chippewa street, who went to Jefferson County yesterday to view the body after reading that the young man had a scar on his left hip. Unger, at the age of 9, had suffered a burn which left a scar.

The body, unclothed except for a pair of socks, was found on the Horseshoe Bottom road by William Barton, a laborer living in the neighborhood. The jugular vein had been severed, a shot had been fired through the head and there were two stab wounds in the left side of the chest. Indications were that the man had been killed at some other place about 12 to 15 hours before.

Unger's parents were unable to throw any light on the killing. They said their son had last been employed as a freight handler for the Columbia Terminals Co., but had not worked for a year.

Unger's parents were unable to throw any light on the killing. They said their son had last been employed as a freight handler for the Columbia Terminals Co., but had not worked for a year.

While he had been out of work, they said, he had been living at various places. They said he had last visited his home about six weeks ago, when he went to see his mother, and that they knew nothing of his associates or what he had been doing.

A coroner's verdict of "homicide at the hands of unknown parties" was returned yesterday at the inquest. The verdict attributed death to the stab wounds, inflicted by an ice pick or other pointed instrument.

TWO GANG KILLINGS ON CHICAGO SOUTH SIDE

One Victim Is Enemy of Frank McErlane, Missing Since Wife Was Slain.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—In a new flareup of gang warfare on the South Side, two men were slain. One was James L. Quigley, said to have been a former partner of Frank McErlane and Edward (Spike) O'Donnell, but more recently their enemy, and the other was George Wilson, 31 years old, once a policeman.

Quigley's body was fished from a drainage canal at Lockport yesterday. He had been shot to death. Police surmised the murder may have had some connections with the killing of Eddie Fitzgald, chauffeur for McErlane, and McErlane's common law wife, Marian Miller, Fitzgerald's sister. Police said their theory gained weight last Thursday when McErlane's automobile, scarred with bullets, was found near his stronghold. Inside was the body of Miss Miller. She had been shot to death, as had her two dogs. McErlane is missing.

Wilson was a small time liquor peddler, police said. He was found by three girls and was taken to a hospital, where he died. He was arrested several years ago on a charge of extortion and more recently for participation in a robbery. He was thought by police to have been a member of the Druggan-Lake West-Side gang.

U. S. INVESTIGATES AGREEMENT WITH CANNON'S BROKER

To Review Prosecution, Conviction and Parole of H. L. Goldhurst at Request of Senator Glass.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The prosecution, conviction and subsequent parole of Harry L. Goldhurst, former New York broker who handled some stock transactions for Bishop James Cannon Jr., will be reviewed by the Department of Justice. This was promised today on behalf of Attorney-General Mitchell after Senator Glass of Virginia had made public correspondence in which he sought to ascertain whether a "blameworthy agreement" had been made by justice officials in New York or elsewhere under which Goldhurst would receive an early parole in exchange for his plea of guilty.

Senator Glass brought Mitchell's attention to a charge that the broker "in order to avert the necessity of summoning Bishop Cannon as a witness in his case and thus disclosing the prelate's gambling transactions, had consented to alter his plea and confess his crime upon the promise of a nominal sentence to be afterwards reduced to parole or outright release."

To Be Released in April.
By action of the Federal Parole

Board, Goldhurst has been ordered released next April. He now is at Fort Meade, near Washington. At the Justice Department it was pointed out that the Goldhurst case was handled under the New York regime of former District Attorney Tuttle.

The Parole Board, members said, has not been requested to reopen the portion of the case either by petition or by instruction of the Department of Justice.

"It was stated," wrote the Senator, "that Goldhurst, in order to avert the necessity of summoning Bishop Cannon as a witness in his case and thus revealing the prelate's gambling transactions, had consented to alter his plea and confess his crime, upon the promise of a nominal sentence, to be afterwards reduced to parole or outright release."

"Whether there was a compact in New York, as alleged, which promised clemency to this swindler in compensation for averting the appearance in court of his ecclesiastical client, I am not in a position to declare; but, regardless of whether the alleged agreement was actually made, the undeniable fact is that the reported terms of the alleged compact have been officially carried out."

Says Broker Was Favored.

"In short, Goldhurst was among those favored convicts who were transferred from the Federal prison at Atlanta to open camps for 'accessibility to their friends and relatives.' He is now at Fort Meade, near Washington, and has been, by the Parole Board, ordered released next April."

Goldhurst, to whom Senator Glass referred as a "bucketshop adventurer," was indicted in May, 1928, for using the mails to defraud. Trial was held up for 15 months. He finally changed his plea of "not guilty" to "guilty" and was sentenced to five years.

Later the activities of Bishop Cannon in the stock market became known and he was tried by a church board. Records of the transactions were put before the grand jury here last week in its inquiry into the 1928 political activities of Bishop Cannon. Results of that inquiry probably will not be known for several days.

Senator Glass first wrote to Attorney-General Mitchell last Aug. 29, complaining about the "alleged compact" and asking that the files in the case be made public. Oct. 5 Mitchell replied that the files would be open to inspection. Glass last Friday again wrote to the Attorney-General, complaining about the "alleged compact."

"Integrity of Department."
"All of the circumstances," wrote the Senator then, "tend to confirm the suspicion that these illicit transactions were devised and acquiesced in for the purpose of shielding the reputation of a culprit of more importance than Goldhurst himself."

"You will pardon me for expressing regret that you do not seem to realize that the very integrity of the Department of Justice is involved in the allegations about the prosecution and the parole of this New York bucketshop swindler."

Senator Glass also said that conduct of the case against Goldhurst was "confided" to a "former female student of Bishop James Cannon Jr., the prelate who was alleged to be sufficiently influential to have the indictments against Goldhurst dismissed and who was afterward revealed as an extensive operator in Goldhurst's bucket shop."

"Not until these astonishing facts were brought to the attention of District Attorney Tuttle in a savage protest by a citizen of New York was the case taken from the hands of this former student at Bishop Cannon's school in Virginia and a definite time fixed for the trial of Goldhurst," Glass wrote. "The letter of this New York citizen bluntly charged that an Assistant District Attorney in Mr. Tuttle's office had been the recipient of enumerated costly gifts as an inducement to pigeonhole the indictments. Significantly enough, this shocking charge was not denied by the District Attorney in his letter of response."

Senator Glass said facts since had been learned by Senate investigators "which indicate that bribery was used to defeat the ends of justice in the Goldhurst case."

He said that after a purported conference in New York between Goldhurst, Bishop Cannon and a politician, Goldhurst changed his plea to guilty and Bishop Cannon "to the amazement of nearly everybody in Virginia, where a hot political campaign, largely precipitated by him, was in progress, sailed for Brazil."

One Trainman Drowned, One Escapes in Florida Accident.

By the Associated Press.
PALATKA, Fla., Oct. 12.—One trainman was drowned when the engine and four cars of an Atlantic Coast Line freight train plunged from an open drawbridge into the St. Johns River at Buffalo Bluff, six miles south of here, yesterday. The trainman was R. P. Torrence of Sanford.

The fireman jumped just as the engine ran onto the trestle and escaped serious injury. Witnesses said a boat had just passed through the draw and the reason for the failure of the train to stop has not been determined.

CALIFORNIA BOYCOTT IS URGED BY MOONEY

In Letter to San Francisco Meeting He Asks Athletes to Avoid State.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 12.—Thousands of persons sat from noon until 5 p. m. in the Exposition auditorium here yesterday singing and shouting their advocacy of freedom for Thomas Mooney and Warren Billings. When the shouting stopped speakers advocated liberty for the prisoners.

On the stage were prominent persons identified with the movement to liberate the two men who are serving life sentences in California prisons for alleged complicity in the bombing of a preparedness parade here in 1916. They included Douglas Fairbanks Jr., motion picture actor.

Rupert Hughes, the author, who said he could not be present, sent a letter in which he said that California needed a scapegoat and Mooney was it.

The chairman of the meeting was the Rev. Robert Whitaker, former Baptist minister, the chief speaker, was Fred Moore, the attorney who defended Sacco and Vanzetti in Massachusetts.

Frederick Older, editor of the San Francisco Call-Bulletin; John D. Barry, newspaper columnist; Oscar Ameringer, Oklahoma labor paper editor, and Mrs. Rena Mooney, wife of Thomas Mooney, also spoke.

"Dollar Got Him in Jail," Ameringer spoke largely in a humorous vein and said he believed Mooney should not only be let out, but should be made Secretary of the Treasury in view of the condition "this supposedly intelligent country had got itself into."

Ameringer said "the dollar got Mooney into jail, and it will get him out." After his speech a collection was taken up for the Mooney cause.

Barry likened the Mooney case to the Dreyfus case in France and said that those opposed to freeing Mooney refused to discuss it.

A long letter from Mooney, who is in San Quentin, was read by Chairman Whitaker. In it Mooney advocated a boycott of California and California goods as a protest against his "unjust imprisonment."

Mooney attributed his conviction to "one of the foulest and most diabolical outrages ever perpetrated," declaring the chief instigators were big business and banking elements of San Francisco.

He urged that athletic clubs refuse to come to the 1932 Olympic games in Los Angeles "while I, an innocent man, remain in prison."

"Your name be revered.
"Your kingdom come.
"Your will be done on earth as it is done in heaven!
"Give us today bread for the day.
"And forgive us our debts as we have forgiven our debtors.
"And do not subject us to temptation,
"But deliver us from the evil one."
The new Bible is to make its appearance Nov. 10.

Bock discovered the body in bed, clad in night-clothing, after he forced a door when no one answered their knock. Neighbors said they had last seen her alive 10 days ago and thought she had gone to Webster Groves to work.

LA FOLLETTE SAYS SENATE IS LAST FORUM OF PEOPLE

In Speech at Y. M. H. A., He Declares House Is Run by Gag Rule and White House Ties to Wealth.

The United States Senate, with the House controlled under gag rule by a handful of administration bell-wethers, is "the last remaining forum where democracy can function in this country," Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin declared in last night's Liberal Forum at the Y. M. H. A., Union boulevard and Enright avenue.

Ready at hand to cite "In Defense of the Senate," he had the past and prospective course of the Federal Government in the face of economic disaster and the fantastic speculation that led up to it. And he made the most of it.

"I contend that the dominant policy of conservatism and laissez-faire has ended in unparalleled disaster," he said, "and I'm glad the Senate is still an open forum where the country can be protected from the control of unprincipled and despotic wealth."

Only "free and untrammelled debate and full power of inquiry in the Senate," he cited, enabled investigation of oil lease and Cabinet corruption, the establishment of parcel post and the building of Boulder Dam, the prevention of taxation "by the policies advocated by Mr. Mellon and President Hoover."

Cites Resolution in 1928.
Only in the Senate had the dangers of inflation been pointed out, he said, and he cited his own resolution in 1928 demanding that the Federal Reserve Board comply with the section of the Federal Reserve act prohibiting use of its credit for speculation.

And only in the Senate, so long as the House was kept docile under the administration whip by gag rule, he said, could such measures be considered as unemployment insurance, an economic council, or a $5,000,000,000 public works bond issue for "a substantial amount of employment and a measured and controlled inflation," which, he said, would be provided in a bill to be introduced in the next session.

Several hundred persons attended this meeting of the Forum, which will bring Stuart Chase, famous economist, to St. Louis for an address next month. And though applause met an admission early in the address that the Senate still had "room for improvement," it was evident that "Young Bob's" easy manner, his ready and apt but courteous wit and egregious patience in answering questioners "from the floor," soon won their good will if not their agreement.

Once Bulwark of Privilege.
Beginning his reply to "the 10-year concerted attack on the Senate," he remarked, "To me it seems a paradox that the body formerly denounced as a bulwark of special privilege should be under attack today by those who resent the existence of a legislative body where forward-looking legislation can be discussed and often enacted into law."

"The Senate was the only forum," he said, "in which the dangers of the era of inflation and the orgy of speculation were pointed out. In 1928 I introduced a resolution pointing to the $5,000,000,000 of credits sucked out of productive farming and manufacturing for a non-productive purpose, to finance speculation, and directing the Federal Reserve Board to take steps toward a gradual deflation and return of the funds to productive uses."

"If there had been a gag rule in the Senate, if it had had no power of investigation, that resolution would never have seen the light of day. Even so, it was not adopted, because the then chief executive gave out a statement in which he touted the stock market and assured the people that inflation and speculation were no longer dangerous so far as this country was concerned."

The Senate was criticized for spending too much time in debating the administration's 'constructive' solution for the panic in 1929.
Newspapers criticized it for delaying the measure which the President and the Secretary of the Treasury had affirmed as the complete cure for the depression.

Relief for the Wealthy.
"Let me tell you what that solution was. It proposed that we take $100,000,000 of the taxpayers' money from the Treasury and return it to—whom? The big income taxpayers of the country! The administration said it would 'psychol-ogize' industry. But after all, there wasn't much room to criticize the Senate. The bill was passed within a week."

"In 1929 the administration proposed its public works plan. It was disclosed that the plan would add only $114,000,000 to the public works program and employ only 130,000 men of an admitted 6,000,000 unemployed."

"The press took up the din of criticism that the Senate was delaying this second measure that would completely solve this economic problem. The Senate adopted it in less than seven days' debate, but even then the President went so far as to say that the Senate 'plays politics with human misery.'" Scrapping of inheritance, income, property and every other existing tax in favor of a universal sales tax had been proposed by Secretary Mellon in 1921 as an "ideal" system of taxation. Senator La Follette related, at a closed conference with old guard members of the Senate Finance Committee, whose proceedings had become public when a member dropped a copy of them in a corridor.

"I can understand why Mr. Mellon would consider that system ideal," he smiled. "Mr. Mellon has accumulated a fortune said to be $400,000,000, largely from Gulf Oil and the pennies extracted from housewives in excessive charges for aluminumware, and if the inheritance tax is not repealed he'll have to pay a big slice of it into the Treasury when he dies. And he's in a hurry. He's 76 years old."

President Hoover's "bankers' pool" was "good, as far as it goes," he said in response to a question.
"Briefly, the bankers agree to put $500,000,000 to 'thaw' frozen assets. Anything that will prevent or delay bank failures is good, though it will not cure the depression. But if his measure is solely for bank relief, why did he fail to act earlier, to prevent the failure of hundreds of small banks?"

"It also occurs to me that his suggestion carries the possibility, in case the $500,000,000 is not enough, that Congress will be asked to supplement it with another $500,000,000 or $1,000,000,000. Of course, if that eventuates, the private corporation will have had the first $500,000,000 of 'least frozen' assets."

Clubwoman Questions Him.
A prominent clubwoman, wife of a Republican attorney, described her admiration for Senator La Follette and his parents, and then asked if there was any "real basis" for his "veiled insinuations" against Secretary Mellon and President Hoover.

"If you haven't obtained the basis for my statement on the tax from what I said," Senator La Follette smiled, "then I don't know how I can make it clear to you."

"I am not raising a question of President Hoover's motives. I say only that we've been in the depression for two years, with banks failing all over the United States, and it was only when the big banks appealed to him that he acted."

"I don't think we need a revolution in this country," he said.
"We've had one. We have a ballot. If the people won't use the ballot, then what could they accomplish by a revolution? Nothing more could be done to give control to the people than was done when this nation was founded."

FLYER'S BODY PUT ON SHIP

Ship-to-Shore Aviator Killed When

By the Associated Press.
HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 12.—The body of Fritz Simon, who was killed in Cobequid Bay when the mail plane New York crashed there, was placed aboard the liner Dresden yesterday. The Dresden left at midnight for New York, from where it will sail for Bremen, Germany. It carried also parts of the wrecked plane.

Simon's plane crashed Tuesday while carrying mail from the North German Lloyd liner Bremen for New York. It had stopped at Sydney, N. S., to refuel. The body of Rudolph Wogenknecht, mechanic, has not been recovered.
The mail also is missing.

Pepsodent announces a notable new discovery

An entirely new cleansing and polishing material has been developed by Pepsodent Laboratories. It is twice as soft as polishing materials in common use. Teeth are given higher polish, brighter luster—FILM stains disappear completely

THE Pepsodent Laboratories announce a new discovery. A revolutionary discovery contained in Pepsodent Toothpaste for more than six months.

Your dentist will tell you Pepsodent's policy has always been to improve constantly—no "fixed formula" to hamper progress. Research laboratories have a habit, in this modern age, of quickly obsolescing prior ideas. As new dental advances have come, Pepsodent has been the first to meet them.

Now once more Pepsodent advances. This time through a notable new discovery that possesses three exclusive virtues:

1. The new cleansing and polishing material in Pepsodent stands unequalled in removing stained, destructive FILM.
2. The new texture is invisibly fine. As a result it imparts a higher polish to enamel—a brilliant glaze or luster.
3. The new material is safe—this is most important of all. Safe because it's soft—yes, twice as soft—as polishing materials in common use.

Having made this new discovery we faced an equally great problem. How to combine it in our present formula without altering appearance or sacrificing the famous flavor that has made Pepsodent so long preferred by millions. We mastered this. In taste and in looks it is still the Pepsodent you have always known. In results and safety it is new—brand new.

Keeps teeth cleaner—safely

Pepsodent's new cleansing and polishing material brings a change in teeth's appearance within a few days' time. Newly discovered, it is different, totally different, from any now in use.

These facts are interesting: this discovery followed 7 years of research . . . 3 tons of raw materials were used in laboratory tests . . . we held a competition from among the ablest minds in chemistry . . . new equipment had to be invented, then erected . . . the process is a carefully guarded secret.

The idea was simple: to combine super film-removing power with super safety and yet retain the original appearance and taste of Pepsodent. A paradox! A seemingly hopeless task that has been the goal of every toothpaste manufacturer for the last decade. Pepsodent has solved it!

Pepsodent—special FILM-removing toothpaste

Removing FILM is, and always will be, Pepsodent's chief duty. Today's Pepsodent performs that duty better than any toothpaste ever has before.

FILM is that slippery coating on your teeth. It gathers germs that cause decay. It glues them tightly to enamel. FILM absorbs the stains from food and smoking and makes teeth unattractive. Removing FILM is important for beauty and for health.

Get a tube of Pepsodent today. Note how smooth and creamy. It is safe . . . utterly safe . . . on the softest baby teeth and the most delicate enamel. Pepsodent today's outstanding scientific toothpaste.

MARCONI DISCUSSES NATURE OF MATTER

Says Problem "What World Is Made Of" Is About to Be Solved.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, Oct. 12.—The great problem of "what the world is made of" seems about to be solved, Guglielmo Marconi said yesterday.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

in opening a meeting here of 50 world scientists.
The scientists, including seven Nobel prize winners, one of them Mme. Curie, gathered here to try to solve the mysteries of nuclei and electrons. The Americans attending are Robert A. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Cal., and Arthur H. Compton of the University of Chicago.

Premier Mussolini, other Italian Cabinet Ministers, physicists of half a dozen nations and directors of the Alexander Volta Institute, under whose auspices the conference was called, attended the opening meeting.
"Twenty-five centuries have passed since Thales, first scientist of ancient Greece, thought of the answer to the question—what is the world made of?" Marconi said, "and only now in our days it seems that the great problem is about to be solved."

Reviewing recent discoveries of physicists who have been investigating the composition of the atom, Marconi said that all these discoveries pointed to one idea—the unity of matter.
"This was at the bottom of the idea of the alchemists, which was derided by almost all great chemists and scientists in the last century," he said. "It is true that we cannot now do what the alchemists dreamed of; that is, change lead or mercury into gold. When that or something similar becomes possible, we shall perhaps have another crisis of the gold standard and exchange.

"However, the Englishman, Rutherford, has already been able to obtain hydrogen from nitrogen, aluminum and other elements, demonstrating brilliantly once and for all that transmutation of elements is no longer Utopian, but has become possible today within very restricted limits. Who knows where the future will take us?
"Many have full faith that in the atomic nucleus are hidden immense treasures which in the near future can be utilized for the benefit of humanity."

TRANSIENTS A RELIEF PROBLEM

Special Report on Their Care for Hoover Committee.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Migrant families, seeking work or milder climates in which to be out of work, are an increasing source of worry to the central relief agencies as winter approaches. A special report on the care of transients will soon be made by the National Association of Traveler Aid Societies to President Hoover's organization.

Speedy and efficient return of helpless transients to communities where either relatives or relief agencies will take care of them will be part of the association's program.

Two Spanish Ships Collide.
By the Associated Press.
GIBRALTAR, Oct. 12.—The Spanish steamer Mariacelina and another Spanish boat, Ciudad de Palma, collided yesterday off Cabo de Gata, near Almeria. Both vessels were damaged. The Mariacelina had to be beached.

Bloodhounds Pursue Vandals.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 12.—Men of Antioch Church, north of Avondale, in Clay County, followed bloodhounds over the countryside yesterday instead of attending services. They sought vandals who Saturday night wrecked the interior of the church, tipped over pews, scattered hymnals and wrote obscene remarks on a page of the Bible in the pulpit. R. E. Martin, a Deputy Sheriff, said he believed the handwriting on the Bible could be identified as that of one of a group of boys whose recent depredations have aroused community.

TWO ROBBERS GET $500 IN HOLDUP OF WHOLESALE FIRM

Invade Office of Heitz Grocery Company as Money Is Transferred to Cash Drawer.

The Heitz Co., a wholesale grocery at 1323 Franklin avenue, was robbed of about $500 at 8:30 a. m. today by two armed men who held up two women employees.

"Keep quiet, we want the money," said one of the men to Miss Alice Otten, a clerk, and Mrs. Pearl Von Behren, a stenographer. "Help yourself," said Mrs. Von Behren, who had just transferred the money from the safe to a cash drawer.

The telephone rang as one of the robbers was scooping the money from the cash drawer and the other commanded. "Don't answer that." The robbers fled east in Franklin avenue.

Grocer Robbed of $450 as He Drives to Market.

Walter G. Folger, grocer at 3865 De Tonty street, was on his way downtown at 4 o'clock this morning to purchase supplies and pay accounts when his truck was forced to the curb by two men in another automobile, at Lawton boulevard and Compton avenue.

One man with a revolver boarded the truck and robbed Folger of $450.

The National Shirt Shop, 914 Olive street, was robbed of $17 at 8 a. m. today by a young man, armed with a pistol, who followed Ben Hoffman, 19 years old, a clerk, into the store when he unlocked the front door. The man, ordering Hoffman to the rear, demanded "the shoe boxes that the money was hidden in." When told the money was in a safe, he took a small amount of currency kept in the cash register and fled.

Samuel Adler, who operates a grocery on South Broadway, was held up by two men who went up to his car as he arrived at his home, 2043 Maury avenue, early yesterday. They robbed him of $600 in cash and in checks.

Burglars who entered the home of Stephen Foskin, 2626 North Euclid avenue, at midnight Saturday, took jewelry and clothing valued at $450.

$525 Taken in Holdup of Poultry Dealer.

Two men who said they wanted to buy chickens at Earl's Quality Market, 6603 St. Louis avenue, Pine Lawn, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, went with Earl Ritchie, the proprietor, into a rear yard where the chickens were kept. There one drew a revolver and forced Ritchie back into the store. They took $500 from his pockets and $25 from the cash register, afterward locking him in a rear room and escaping in an automobile.

Harry M. Fine, a real estate dealer of 6515 Enright avenue, was held up as he was putting his car in the garage in the rear of his home. Two armed men took $525 and a $450 diamond ring from him. Except for $15, the money was collections Fine had made and was insured.

MAKES PHOTOSTATIC COPIES OF COLUMBUS' GEOGRAPHY

Canadian Benefits European Libraries With Photographs and Translation.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—Photostatic copies of the "Imago Mundi," which Christopher Columbus used, are available now in European libraries, the result of labors on the part of Edmond Buron, archivist of the Canadian Government. Heretofore those who wished to see the geography, written by Pierre Cardinal D'Ailly and containing marginal notes by Columbus, had to journey to Seville.

Buron has photographed the original, preserved the pen scratches and calculations made by Columbus, and has translated the book from Latin to French.

The geography shows that when writing letters to monarchs for aid for his expedition which resulted in discovery of America, Columbus quoted the Cardinal's writings almost literally, especially when he wanted to impress upon the sovereigns that the ocean was narrow and hence it would not take him long to cross it.

CURRIED OR BRAISED LAMB IS ECONOMICAL

Vegetables Add to Tasty Flavor of These Meat Recipes.

Cheaper cuts of lamb are good if carefully cooked, and there are no better recipes than curried and braised lamb.

Curry of Lamb.

Two pounds neck or breast of lamb or mutton cut in small pieces for serving. Mix one-fourth cup flour with one teaspoon salt and a little pepper and roll the meat in it. Melt four tablespoons fat in a saucepan and brown the meat in the fat. Add one sour apple peeled and cut in thin slices, one onion sliced thin and one tablespoon curry powder. Stir to mix, then add five cups boiling water. Cover closely and simmer for one hour until meat is very tender. Skim off the fat, and thicken gravy with a little flour, serve with a border of boiled or steamed rice and sprinkle with minced parsley.

Braised Lamb.

Have the butcher bone and roll a shoulder of lamb. Sprinkle the meat with salt, pepper and flour. Brown the surface quickly in a little hot fat in a saucepan keep the juices in and add to the flavor. Mix one-half cup diced carrots, one-half cup diced onions, one-half cup diced turnips and one cup sliced celery and put them in the bottom of a covered pan or casserole dish. Put the browned meat on top of the vegetables and add one cup boiling water, two whole cloves, a sprig of parsley and a teaspoon salt. Cover and cook in a moderate oven for two and one-half to three hours, or allow 40 minutes for each pound of meat.

CREAMED OYSTERS WITH MUSHROOMS

Pick over two dozen large oysters to remove any bits of shell. Wash one-fourth pound mushrooms, scrape the stems, and cut the caps in two or three pieces. Melt one-fourth cup butter in a saucepan, add the mushrooms and cook slowly for five minutes. Stir in four tablespoons flour and when blended add one and one-half cups milk. Stir constantly over a slow fire until thickened, smooth and boiling.

Season with one-half teaspoon celery salt, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, one tablespoon lemon juice, one-half teaspoon salt, a little pepper and one-fourth teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Add the oysters, drained from their juice, and heat to the boiling point. Simmer for two or three minutes and serve on toast or in patty shells. Serves four.

ESCALLOPED POTATOES; WHITE AND SWEET

Escalloped potatoes cook in much less time if the sliced potatoes are boiled for five minutes before they are baked. Slice the raw potatoes quite thin. Cover with boiling water, add a large sliced onion to each six potatoes. Boil for five minutes, drain and put into a buttered shallow baking dish, spreading them out in a layer about one and one-half to two inches thick.

Sprinkle two tablespoons flour over the potatoes and season with salt and pepper. Dot with three tablespoons butter and pour in milk to barely cover the potatoes. Bake in a moderate oven for 35 minutes, or until brown on top and creamy throughout.

Escalloped sweet potatoes are especially good. They are cooked by the method used above, or by omitting the onion and adding one tablespoon brown sugar mixed with one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon.

Gelatin Croquettes.

Soften a teaspoonful of gelatin in a little cold water and dissolve over hot water (using as little water as possible to reduce the gelatin to a liquid). Stir into the croquette mixture and set aside until gelatin has had time to stiffen it. Croquettes may then be shaped very easily, and the heat of the frying will dissolve the gelatin again, making the inside of the croquettes soft and creamy.

Steak Stuffed With Potatoes.

Pound a round steak flat, sprinkle with chopped onion and parsley and spread with a thick layer of highly seasoned mashed potatoes. Roll, tie into shape, brush with beaten egg, sprinkle with crumbs and cook in a moderate oven in a covered pan for one and one-half hours. Remove string and serve with tomato sauce.

Okra Baked With Tomato.

Melt two tablespoons butter and in it brown a small sliced onion. Into this stir a quart of washed and sliced okra. Season with salt and pepper. Put in baking dish and pour over one-half pint stewed fresh or canned tomatoes. Bake for one-half hour, sprinkle with minced parsley.

Egg Sandwich.

Take one-inch thick slices of bread and toast on both sides. Split, butter untoasted sides after splitting, spread one piece with scrambled eggs and cover with other piece of toast.

Coffee Cake.

Mix ¾ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup milk, 2 eggs, 2 cups flour, ¼ cup raisins, and 2 teaspoons baking powder. Mix sugar and cinnamon and sprinkle on top, dot with butter. Bake 15 minutes.

BRAISED ROUND STEAK WITH VEGETABLE GRAVY

Select a piece of bottom round cut about two inches thick. Rub two tablespoons flour and one-half teaspoon salt into each side. Melt two tablespoons fat in a heavy frying pan and when hot, put in the steak and brown quickly on each side. As soon as brown remove from the stove, cover with one-half cup sliced onion, one-half cup diced carrot, one-half cup diced white turnip, one-half cup diced celery, one tablespoon minced parsley. Sprinkle the vegetables with salt and pepper and add one-half cup boiling water. Cover the frying pan and bake in moderate oven for an hour. Remove the meat and vegetables carefully to a hot platter and make a brown gravy from the liquid in the pan.

VEGETABLE AND FISH CHOWDERS ARE GOOD

Nothing Better for the First Cool Evenings Than Either of These Recipes.

Fish Chowder.
Cook three large potatoes in two cups water until tender. Cook together three minced slices of bacon or salt pork, one-third cup finely sliced onion, but do not brown. Add four tablespoons flour, and when smooth, add one quart soup stock, and two cups of milk, stirring well, then add diced potatoes and water in which cooked two tablespoons butter, one tablespoon tomato sauce, a little salt and pepper, and 2 cups of cooked, diced fish. Simmer slowly for 1 hour.

Vegetable Chowder.
Saute one-fourth cup salt pork cut in pieces in a large saucepan until brown. Add one sliced onion, and cook five minutes, then add one cup of diced turnips and one cup of diced carrots with enough water to cook for 15 minutes. Add one cup of diced potatoes, a few celery leaves, and cook until all vegetables are tender. Then add two cups hot milk and heat to boiling point. Thicken with a little flour rubbed to a smooth paste with water. Just before serving add salt and two tablespoons butter.

Onions, Apples and Steak.
In bottom of well-oiled shallow baking dish put three-quarters cupful of sliced Bermuda onions, and over these place three cupfuls of sliced apples. Mix one pound of ground round steak with one teaspoonful of salt and one egg, and form into small flat cakes. Arrange cakes, each with a ring of green pepper on the apples, pour in one-quarter cupful of meat stock or water and bake one-half hour in a moderate oven.

Carrot Strips.
Scrape carrots, slice them lengthwise in thin pieces and again cut each slice in long pieces. Cook until tender in a covered pan in a little boiling salted water as possible. When tender, drain and season well with butter, salt and pepper. Let the carrots simmer for a few minutes in the butter.

DARK CHOCOLATE CAKE IS LUSCIOUSLY RICH

Made With Custard Layers and Iced With Cocoa and Coffee Flavored Recipe.

This is really almost black in its chocolate richness and is a good recipe to have for the bridge luncheon, or other company day when something especially good is wanted for dessert. It is made in two parts, and for the first, make a custard by melting six ounces of chocolate in upper part of double boiler. Mix one beaten egg yolk, one cup milk and one cup of granulated sugar and add to chocolate, cooking until smooth and thick. Stir constantly while cooking. Let cool.

Then cream one-fourth pound butter and one cup sugar until light, add three egg yolks and beat to a smooth, creamy batter. Add beaten whites of three eggs, one and one-half cups flour and one-half cup milk. Beat well, then add another half cup of flour in which one teaspoon soda has been mixed. Finally, add the cooled chocolate custard and bake in moderate oven for 25 minutes. Spread with the following icing:

Mix one pound confectioners' sugar with five full tablespoons sugar. Drop in piece of soft butter size of egg, and gradually stir in enough hot coffee until mixture is ready to spread—about two and one-half tablespoons of coffee should be enough. Add last one teaspoon vanilla.

STUFFED ONIONS WITH BUTTERED CRUMBS
Select medium-sized dry onion. Remove the outer dry skin and boil in salted water until rather tender. Drain. Remove the centers, leaving a substantial shell. Chop the centers and add to them an equal quantity of buttered crumbs, moistened with bouillon, re-fill the shells, sprinkle buttered crumbs on top and bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes, basting occasionally.

SALMON OMELETTE
Cook one small onion and a chopped pepper in bacon fat until a moderate brown. Add one and one-half cups cooked tomatoes, one-half teaspoon salt, dash of pepper and one can of pink salmon, flaked. Simmer 10 minutes. Add one tablespoon flour beaten smooth in one-half cup milk. Remove from fire.

Whip in well beaten yolks of four eggs. Pour in well buttered flat bottom skillet. When partly cooked spread over one-half the stiffly beaten egg whites. Fold the other half of the yellow mixture over the whites. Bake in moderate hot oven for 10 or 12 minutes.

SWEET POTATO CUSTARD
Wash, boil, peel and mash three medium-sized sweet potatoes. Beat in one-quarter cup sugar, two tablespoons butter, a pinch of salt, a quart of milk and a little nutmeg. Beat thoroughly and finally force through a colander. Add last two well-beaten eggs, turn into buttered baking dish and bake in slow oven until firm.

A half cup each of chopped walnut meats and chopped raisins and a teaspoon vanilla added to this custard before baking makes a delicious and rich dessert.

Hashed Brown Potatoes.
Chop potatoes fine and season with salt, pepper and paprika and moisten with a very little cream; stir well. Melt a tablespoon of butter in a frying pan, place potatoes in it. Press down well with broad bladed knife, smooth over the top and place the pan where the potatoes will cook rapidly for a few minutes.

After that set the pan at the back of the range, where the potatoes simmer and brown. Then the broad bladed knife is slipped under them and they are folded over like an omelet. Place the folded potatoes on a hot platter and serve with chops, steak, fried ham or cutlets.

STUFFED TENDERLOIN OF BEEF

Secure a tenderloin weighing 4 or 5 pounds. Split it open down one entire side but do not cut all the way through. Have ready 1 carrot and 2 or 3 stalks of celery cooked almost soft. Spread the meat apart and rub both inside and outside with salt and brush lightly with melted butter. Place the parboiled carrot and celery inside and tie the roast to give it a nice even shape. Add a little fat to the roasting pan into which a sliced onion and a few whole black peppers have been put. Place the roast in the pan and cook in a hot oven for 30 to 35 minutes, reducing the heat after searing. It will be necessary to baste frequently, as the tenderloin does not have as much fat as the ribs. Serve on a platter garnished with vegetables.

Honey and Orange Sauce.
Combine one cup honey, one-half cup finely chopped orange peel, one-half cup orange juice and a little dash of salt. Let stand over hot water without cooking for about half an hour. This is good for ice cream sauce.

Shrimp and Pineapple Salad.
Combine one and one-half cups canned or fresh shrimps, one cup canned pineapple diced, one-half teaspoon salt, dash of paprika, two chopped sprigs of chives. Just before serving pour over six tablespoons French dressing and mix well.

Shrimp and Carrot Salad.
Cut one can shrimps in small pieces, rinse in cold water. Peel and put enough carrots through grinder to have two cups. Add to shrimps and mix with mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce with slices of olives and pimiento.

FRIED MUSH
Make mush in the regular way. Turn it into a shallow greased pan, smoothing the surface evenly. When cold, turn the mush from the pan. Cut cold mush into slices about one-quarter inch thick and fry until brown and crisp in a hot skillet.

If preferred, the slices may be sprinkled with flour, or dipped first in salted beaten egg and then in bread or cracker crumbs before frying. The fat should be hot, so that a crust will quickly form upon the slices and prevent them from soaking up any grease. Cornmeal, oatmeal or other cereals may be fried in the same way.

Fruit Appetizers.
Fresh fruits included in appetizers served at the beginning of the meal fill a valuable purpose by stimulating the digestive juices. Oranges and lemons are particularly effective because of their fruit acids.

KEEPS little AILMENTS from growing into BIG ONES!

It may be just a coated tongue tonight... with dull eyes, bad color and breath. But by these symptoms Nature is telling you that you may have a sick child tomorrow. Help tonight is simple. Tomorrow it may be harder. A single simple dose of Castoria is usually all that's needed to bring relief; it often keeps a serious illness from developing. Castoria, you know, is the children's own remedy—made specially to give the gentle help their delicate organs must have. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics.

In any starting illness such as a cold, a little fever, a food upset, a first-aid dose of Castoria is always a wise precaution. It's never hard to get children to take Castoria. They love its taste, and are grateful for the relief it always brings to tied-up systems.

For babies or for older children, depend on Castoria's gentle regulation. It has kept many a little ailment from growing into a serious one! Genuine Castoria always has the name Chas. H. Fletcher on the package.

NATIONAL HORSE SHOW TO OPEN THIS EVENING

Army Olympic Team Will Take Part in Contests at The Arena.

The St. Louis National Horse Show opens tonight at The Arena, 5700 Oakland avenue, with some of the finest horses in the country competing for $25,000 in prize money and many valuable trophies. Performances will be given each night during the week, starting at 8 o'clock, with a matinee Saturday and Sunday. The horse show is in connection with the National Dairy Exposition, which opened Saturday at The Arena, and the St. Louis saddle horse sale, which begins tomorrow at Missouri Stables, 5200 Berthold avenue.

For tonight's program there are 15 events, beginning with the competition for hunters and jumpers. Entertainment features include a polo game, an exhibition by a trained horse, and the Graham Western Riders, featuring a father and his seven sons, the youngest of whom is 3 years old.

The army Olympic team, in training at Fort Riley, Kan., for next year's games at Los Angeles, is to appear at the show, and another army team is here from Fort Sill, Ok. The Fort Riley team is entered in the jumping event, which opens tonight's program, and Fort Sill will be represented in the light-weight hunters' competition, which will bring to a close tonight's performance.

Among the more than 80 owners who have entered horses in the show are several who will be represented here for the first time. These include R. W. Morrison, of the Anasacho ranch at Spottford, Tex.; Herbert J. Kittenger, Buffalo, N. Y., who has a large stable of harness horses, and the Milky Way Farm at Pulaski, Tenn., which has entered several saddle horses. Mrs. Louis Long Coombs, Kansas City, Mo., has entered 15 harness horses, and will be exhibiting at The Arena for the first time. Her horses were shown at the Coliseum five years ago.

St. Louis exhibitors include August A. Bush Jr., Fred W. Holcomb, Fleetmount Farms, E. C. Davis, A. N. Engle, Harry J. Burkart, W. T. Treadway, and W. N. Sifton. Several of them were at The Arena frequently last week working out with their horses and accustoming them to the surroundings.

SHIPPING MAGNATES DISCUSS TAKING OVER OF U. S. LINES

Possible Purchase and Operation By Combined Interests Said to Be Considered.

By the Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Capt. Robert Dollar said today the conference of American shipping magnates in progress here involved a proposition "that is much bigger than it would appear from the guess work that has come out."

The head of the Dollar Steamship lines refused to discuss rumors of a huge merger between the Dollar-Chapman-Dawson interests of the Pacific Coast and the International Mercantile Marine-Roosevelt lines of the Atlantic.

One of the major items under discussion, it was learned, was the possible purchase and operation of the United States Lines by the combined interests of the East and West coast companies.

FOLLOWS DEACON AND WIFE, KILLS HIM AND SHOOTS HER

Husband Surrenders to Police at Charlottesville, Va., and Describes Scene on Highway.

By the Associated Press. CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Oct. 12.—Charlie Zahab, Charlottesville restaurant proprietor, yesterday shot to death J. E. Sandridge, deacon in the University Baptist Church, and then shot his wife, Victoria Zahab, before surrendering to police.

The shooting occurred on a highway just outside Charlottesville, where Zahab followed his wife and Sandridge. "My wife refused to tell me what she was doing out there, and then told Sandridge to shoot me," Zahab told authorities. "I shot him. Vick then got out and fought with me, and I shot her," he said.

YOUTH RETURNED TO JAIL WHEN HE ESCAPED IN JUNE

Two Companions in Flight Previously Re-arrested; All Accused of Burglary.

James McPherson, 21 years old, one of five youths who escaped from Clayton jail June 23, was returned there today after being arrested Saturday in Webster Groves. Two of his companions had been captured previously. All were awaiting trial on burglary charges. They had been released from their cells because of the heat, and sawed weak bars on the corridor window.

McPherson was caught when a neighbor of Peter Winters, 5 Laclede Station road, Webster Groves, saw him forcing an entrance into the Winters home. She telephoned police who arrested him as he was leaving after stealing a watch.

Mexican Products on Display.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 12.—The National Stadium today housed an extensive exposition of Mexican national products which will be a permanent feature in the program of developing Mexican industry. President Ortiz Rubio and other Government officers inaugurated the display yesterday.

Don't Go to Extremes To Treat Constipation

When unpleasant breath, or a coated tongue, biliousness or headaches warn of constipation, don't take violent purgatives. There's no use when a candy Cascaret will relieve the trouble in a jiffy; will cleanse your system pleasantly, and completely.

The relief you get so promptly from Cascarets is lasting. Cascarets are made from cascara, a substance which medical authorities agree actually strengthens the bowel muscles.

So Cascarets are a blessing to old folks with weakened bowels; to children; to anyone in need of establishing regular bowel habits. Ten cents a box—all drug stores.

today said that "Russia has laugh on us."

cast was his first radio speech ex-asserted.

efficient rulers, her atmos-poorest as has never before seen in a civilized coun-

Like American Revolution
Shaw compared the evils of the Czarist regime in the American revolution.

EVILS OF IGNORANCE, POVERTY, RETREAT

Asserts President Hoover, Who Fed Millions in Europe, Cannot Provide for Own People.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—George Bernard Shaw in a trans-Atlantic broadcast to the United States yesterday said that "Russia has the laugh on us."

The philosopher and playwright, speaking from London, defended communism and the Soviet Government in Russia, which he recently visited. The broadcast was his first radio speech exclusively for Americans.

"Russia has us fooled, beaten, shamed, shown up, outpointed and all but knocked us out," Shaw asserted.

"We have lectured her from the heights of our modern superiority and now we are calling on the mountains to hide our blushes in her presence.

"Russia flaunts her budget surplus, her people employed to the last man and woman, her scientific agriculture, doubling and trebling her harvests, her roaring and multiplying factories, her efficient rulers, her atmosphere of such hope and security for the poorest as has never before been known in a civilized country on earth."

Like American Revolution.
Shaw compared the overthrow of the Czarist regime in 1917 to the American revolution.

"Lenn and his friends took command of the Soviet and established the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics," he said, "exactly as Washington and Jefferson and Hamilton and Franklin and Tom Payne had established the United States of America 141 years before."

He added: "A word or two of consolation to those who have been telling one another for a month that I have gone dotty about Russia.

"After all, some of the most wonderful things the Russians are doing were suggested 50 years ago by Americans, many of whom have been sent to jail for their pains."

At another point, describing what travelers to Russia would see, he said:

"You must not expect a Paradise. Russia is too big a place for any Government to get rid in 14 years of the frightful mass of poverty, ignorance and dirt left by the Czarism.

Hope Everywhere in Russia.
"I am afraid there is still a good deal of the poverty, ignorance and dirt we know so well at home, but there is hope everywhere in Russia, because these evils are retreating."

Assailing business men and statesmen in Great Britain and the United States, Shaw said:

"Your President, who became famous by feeding the starving millions of war devastated Europe, cannot feed his own people in time of peace."

He charged that nations aside from Russia have not learned how to distribute wealth, and spoke of the role as a last resource to aid unemployment.

Referring to persons who have belittled his enthusiasm for Russia, Shaw asked: "How are all you dear old boobies?"

BISHOP PREACHES ON ECONOMICS

Bishop Coadjutor William Scarlett preached in Christ Church Cathedral yesterday the first of a series of sermons which he is to give in the cathedral on the second Sunday morning of each month.
Speaking of religion in its bearing on international economic problems, Bishop Scarlett said:

"Jesus did not pretend to be an economist. He had no economic plan to set before the people. He did not try to devise any particular method by which the problem should be solved, but He was convinced that this is God's world; that there is moral law at the heart of it, and that God's ethical will moves through human affairs."

"We have been going on the principle that nations are our enemies, and that selfishness is the law of life in international relationships. The logical outcome of that theory was 1914. Today as the theory progresses, the Western nations find themselves on the edge of an abyss and are beginning to draw back in horror at what they have discovered."

"We are members one of another."
If one member suffer, all the other suffer with it. The nations of the world are but one great family. We are all bound together

GENOA CELEBRATES; EXHIBITS PROOF OF COLUMBUS' BIRTH

Senator Declares Discoverer "Was and Will Always Remain an Italian."

By the Associated Press.
GENOA, Italy, Oct. 12.—Determined to establish for all time its claims to be the birthplace of Christopher Columbus, Genoa staged its greatest show today in honor of the discovery of America.

Senator Broccardi took advantage of the occasion to say that "Columbus was and will always remain an Italian. He was a son of Genoa and his family was Italian. The proofs exist in Genoa archives."

The populace decorated everything in sight, lighting candles and electric signs, and paid visits to the tumbled, ivy-grown stone structure that is said to be the explorer's birthplace. A display of Columbus relics was held in the Tursi Palace, included two letters supposedly written by Columbus to the Bank of Saint George, in which he offered a tenth of his income to the bank to be used for the city. The bank's reply, calling him "citizen," was also shown.

Another document on exhibition was a deed, executed in 1498, in which Columbus writes, "Stendo nacido en Genova," Genoaese dialect for "having been born in Genoa."

HOOVER MAKES QUICK TRIP BACK FROM RAPID CAMP

Cuts 15 Minutes From Usual Schedule, Although Delayed
By Sheep on Highway.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—President Hoover returned to the White House early today from Rapid Camp.
The President and most of his 12 guests arose before daylight for the return trip. Leaving the camp at 6:30 o'clock, they traveled the 103 miles to Washington in two hours and 45 minutes, 15 minutes faster than the usual time.

The presidential car was stopped while he closely packed sheep ambulating and driving across the highway, despite the tooting of the horn.

GOLD STANDARD SUSPENDED BY THE BANK OF FINLAND

Nation Follows Lead of Other Scandinavian Countries; Action
Also Taken in Rhodesia.

By the Associated Press.
HELSINKI, Finland, Oct. 12.— The Bank of Finland today suspended the gold standard, in accordance with the decision of the Scandinavian countries today by suspending the gold standard. At the same time the discount rate was increased from 8 per cent to 9 per cent.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—Northern and Southern Rhodesia, British colonies in South Africa, have suspended the gold standard in conformity with instructions from the Secretary of State, the official gazette says.

DR. CLEMENTS TO WASHINGTON Committee to Confer With Hoover and Party Leaders.

By the Associated Press.
Dr. E. B. Clements of Maccon, Republican National Committee man from Missouri, after spending a few days at State Republican headquarters here, left yesterday for Washington where he will confer with President Hoover and other party leaders.

Dr. Clements would not indicate where he would be a candidate for re-election. He was visited at State headquarters by several State leaders, including State Chairman Arthur Curtis of Springfield.

ROBINSON BACKS VIEW OF GLASS Won't Support Plan to Unload Frozen Securities on U. S.

By the Associated Press.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 12.— Senator Robinson (Dem.), Arkansas, wrote Senator Carter Glass of Virginia today that while he was "anxious to contribute every possible effort to the strengthening of credit and the revival of business," he had "no intention of giving approval to any plan which I believe is calculated to unload frozen securities on the Federal Reserve Banks."

for better or for worse. There is no permanent security or prosperity for any nation except as all share in a common security and a common prosperity.

"The problem of unemployment which faces us today is not simply an economic problem, but a most searching moral problem. It entails the breaking down of the workingman's standard of life and that of his family; the loss of self-respect which comes from a sense of being useless; the incapacity of the workman for good work in the future; the breeding of resentment against society. Men can have no confidence in a system which guarantees them no security."

"There are four major problems which should be problems of the whole community: unemployment, sickness, accidents, old age. 'Is it not a national scandal,' asks one of our economists, 'that in the year 1930, when they were turning men by the millions out of employment, the dividend disbursements reached a record-breaking high? Is it not possible by the same method which protected the dividend disbursements, also to protect the wage disbursements?'"

GANDHI WILL NOT TAKE ADVANTAGE OF BRITISH CRISIS

Praises MacDonald, Declares Against Immediate Enforcement of Independence Demand.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—Mahatma Gandhi in an interview yesterday complimented Prime Minister MacDonald for his efforts to see Great Britain through its crisis and said he would not take advantage of its position to enforce his demands for Indian independence.

"I have the deepest sympathy for Prime Minister MacDonald," he said. "He is worn out. He is carrying a load that would have crushed a man of less spirit and courage long ago. England has not seen his like in many a year."

Asked if he were discouraged over the lack of progress of the round-table conference, Gandhi replied:

"Well, up to now they have given me nothing and I really expect nothing. I can see nothing but darkness on the horizon. But as long as I know there are certain enlightened constructive forces at work to prevent the conference from breaking down, I shall not return to India. I cannot hold a blackjack over England's head while she is tottering and gouge India's freedom out of her."

He said he was wholly unprepared for the telegrams and even affection, shown him by the English people. He was much amused when he saw placards being carried through the streets announcing that a wax figure of him was on exhibition at Mme. Tussaud's museum.

Gandhi has disclosed that a number of Negro organizations in Harlem have invited him to go to the United States and address them on racial problems.

If he decides to make the trip he also will speak on nonviolence in Philadelphia, Washington, Boston and other large cities. He depends on Dr. John Haynes Holmes to convince Dr. John Haynes Holmes that Gandhi would not be treated as a curiosity.

When the round-table conference is over he plans to visit the Irish Free State, Germany, Italy and Palestine if it will not embarrass the British Government. He is particularly desirous of meeting the Irish people because of their successful struggle for a pure status.

STRIKE DISORDER IN GRANADA, CHAUFFEURS DEMAND MORE PAY

Business Paralyzed in Spanish City; Governor Calls Out Civil Guard.

By the Associated Press.
GRANADA, Spain, Oct. 12.—Automobiles were stoned, a mail truck was wrecked and business paral-yzed today in a general strike here growing out of a demand by the Chauffeur's Union for higher wages.
Forty persons were arrested.
The Governor's office, in a communique, requested the populace not to stand on balconies or on the street because "heavy detachments of civil guards have been ordered to deal with the revolutionary strikers."

SEVILLE, Spain, Oct. 12.—Po- lice broke up demonstrations of unemployed here today after sev- eral hundred persons had attacked and looted food shops. Twelve ar- rests were made and headquarters of the unemployed were padlocked because of alleged threats against the Mayor. Bakers were on strike and military authorities supplied the city with bread.

CALLS PARLEY TO CO-ORDINATE FOREIGN EXCHANGE LIMITATIONS

Board of World Bank Especially Summons Great Britain and Germany.

By the Associated Press.
BASEL, Switzerland, Oct. 12.— Directors of the Bank for International Settlements today invited the Central banks of countries which have found it necessary to restrict trade in foreign exchange—notably Great Britain and Germany—to meet for a conference in Basel for the purpose of co-ordinating their restrictive measures.

This co-ordination was considered desirable by the directors "to avoid grave inconveniences" which the restrictions produce in other countries.

After announcing the invitation, the World Bank's directors adjoined.

PRESIDENTIAL VOTE IN PERU Returns from Election Incomplete; Polling Quiet in Lima.

By the Associated Press.
LIMA, Peru, Oct. 12.—Peru was counting the votes today in its first election since the downfall of President Leguia in August, 1930.
There were four presidential candidates.

The winner may not be known for some time because of poor communications between the provinces.
The voting was quiet in Lima yesterday.

After 6000-Mile Journey Through Soviet States

No. 2---United States Trade Opportunities

German Attempts to Make Machines of Yankee Design Not Satisfactory—Russia Unable to Understand Why Their Great Market Is Neglected by Americans.

By Raymond P. Brandt.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1931, by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch).

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., August, 1931 AMERICAN engineers in Soviet Russia cannot understand why the United States is overlooking what they say is the greatest market in the world today.

At Nizni-Novgorod, Harry F.
Mitter, chief engineer for the Austin Co. of Cleveland which is supervising the construction of a Russian Ford motor car plant, estimated that $20,000,000 worth of American building and industrial machinery could have been sold to the Russians for the Nizni plant if American manufacturers had been on the alert.

At Chelyabinsk in Siberia, where the Soviet Government is building the largest tractor factory in the world, John Thome of Peoria, Ill., who is in charge of the experimental plant, declared that $13-000,000 worth of American machinery could have been sold to equip the entire plant.

At Verblud, Leon S. Margolin, the intelligent young Russian manager of the 250,000-acre State farm in the Don region, said that he would like nothing better than to have the farm supplied entirely with American agricultural machinery.

Needs of Russian Factories.

At the Stalingrad tractor factory, which is now in production, 92 per cent of the machinery is of American make. This was bought before the Fish Committee and the Treasury Department raised a rumpus over the alleged "dumping" of Russian goods in the United States.
This factory is still in the market for small tools.

At the Dnieprostroy hydro-electric project at Kichkas $3,000,000 worth of construction machinery and a similar amount of power equipment was bought in the United States. The cost of the entire project, including dam, power house, industrial plants and apartments for workers, is estimated at $350,000-000 to $400,000,000. Much of this money, according to American engineers in charge, could find its way to the United States.

These are only a few of the large Russian developments where American machinery could be used. Other are in Moscow, Leningrad, Kharkov, Magnitogorsk and in the coal mines of the Don and Kuznets basins.

To use a Russian phrase, the Soviet Government wants to buy machines that make machines, that is, machines needed in the manufacture of tractors, combines, automobiles, typewriters and the like.
The present 5-year plan calls for the development of heavy, basic industries. Production in the lighter industries of consumers' goods will come later, possibly in the next five-year plan which is expected to start in 1933.

Poor Copying in Germany.

At the request of the writer, Mitter, who has wide experience in building and plant construction throughout the United States, named the types of machinery the View of the Ford assembly plant at Nizni-Novgorod. The length of this building is 1800 feet, more one-third of a mile.

Russians would like to buy in the United States.

Pointing to some newly made concrete window sashes in an enormous assembly plant, Mitter said:
"Obviously the Russians would have been glad to buy steel sashes for this building."

"In general," he continued, "the Russians need and want from the United States the equipment required for modern industrial plants.
This includes steam and gasoline excavators, heavy trucks and structural steel for the buildings. For equipping the plants they need machine tools such as dies, planes, lathes, shapers and hammers. They need vast quantities of sewerage and electrical equipment for their sanitary equipment. Above all, they need pumps of 10,000,000 to 15-000,000 gallons a day capacity. In a short time they will need millions of hubbards, to say nothing of other sanitary equipment. Above all, they now need millions of dollars' worth of small tools for machinists and carpenters."

"At present they are buying a great deal of German machinery and equipment because German exports about which they know little. Even with the best intentions in the world, the German manufacturers cannot get all the "bugs" out of these experimental jobs. The American manufacturers have been making these machines for years and know what can and cannot be done."

The writer heard the same complaint about German products from other American specialists.
At Chelyabinsk the engineers pointed out a German gear-cutting machine which cost, they believed, at least $10,000. It would not work, they said.

"We're thinking of putting a place over it," they said fac-tiously, "as an object lesson to the Russian buyers."

Soviet purchases in the United States have decreased greatly since last year, when they amounted to $141,223,000. Sales of Russian goods in the United States in the same period were only $31,017,000.

What Russia Is Buying.

Department of Commerce statistics give a revealing picture of these American exports and imports. The sales to Russia during the year 1929-30, ending Oct. 1, were as follows:

Raw materials, such as cotton, nonferrous metals, rubber, etc., $18,395,000; semi-manufactured goods, paints, dyes, chemicals, etc., $1,845,000; industrial equipment, $46,050,000; power equipment, $4,338,000; automobiles and automotive equipment, $5,590,000; agricultural machinery, $67,442-000; office supplies and accessories, $151,000, and miscellaneous, $4-611,000.

Russian sales to the United States were divided as follows:

Furs, $6,482,000; lumber, $4,632-000; anthracite coal, $2,165,000; manganese, $3,370,000; casings, $2-894,000; fish products, $1,763,000; waste (rags and bones), $1,401-000; flax, hemp and tow, $1,111-000; licorice root, $629,000; bristles, $614,000; matches, $384,000; dried mushrooms, $245,000; rugs and handicraft, $273,000; miscellaneous including seeds, horsehair, motion picture films, crude drugs and minerals, $3,575,000.

Since Oct. 1, 1930, purchases in the United States have dropped almost 50 per cent. For the six months ending March 31, 1931, the purchases amounted to $33,385,000, as compared to $80,441,000 for a like period in 1929-30.

Sales to Russia and purchases from Russia have continued to drop since March 31 of this year.
For the four months April, May,
June and July of 1931, American sales to Russia amounted to $30-171,144, as compared to $37,241-995 for a similar period in 1930.
Purchases from Russia have amounted to $4,862,953 for the four months this year as compared to $8,759,705 to a similar period in 1930.

U. S. in Favorable Position.

Reduced to their lowest denominator, these figures mean that for every sale of a dollar's worth of Russian goods in the United States the Russians have bought about $5 worth of American goods. During the past five years, according to Russian figures, the American favorable trade balance with Russia has aggregated more than $500,000,000. The gold with which Russia has paid these American debts has come from Russia's favorable trade balance with other countries.

In Berlin it was reported that the French, who have an unfavorable trade balance with Russia, are contemplating the formation of a semi-governmental trading company, comparable to the Russian trade monopoly, which is expected to force Russia to buy as much goods in France as she sells. Apparently France would like nothing better than have a five to one favorable trade balance such as the United States enjoys.

Department of Commerce statistics also disclose that the present commerce with Russia gives the United States a much more favorable trade balance than the United States had with Russia before the war.

Between 1910 and 1914, when old Russian production and consumption was at its peak, the United States sold on an average of $24,600,000 worth of goods a year, and bought from Russia about $20,500,000 worth. Between the years 1925 and 1930, with Russia under Soviet rule, the United States has sold on an average of $77-300,000 worth of goods annually

100,000 BRITONS MARCH IN PROTEST AGAINST PAY CUT

Civil Employees Parade
From Thames to Hyde Park Bearing Banner,
"Serve, Yes; Serf, No."

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—The peaceful demonstration of Great Britain's civil servants against reductions in their salaries was described by police today as the greatest within memory.

It was estimated that 100,000 men, women and children were in the orderly parade that moved along the banks of the Thames to Hyde Park to listen to a dozen addresses yesterday. Hundreds of mounted and foot police were required to regulate traffic.

The paraders marched to the music of 20 bands and to the waving of hundreds of banners. The flag was "When the Flag Goes Marching By" and their signs read:
"Postmen See Red," "Stop Cutting
Our Wages and Keep the Eighth Commandment in Force," and
"Serve, Yes; Serf, No."

A concomitant communist manifestation was not so peaceable.
Many communists broke out of line and hurled threats at spectators in homes and hotels. They carried flags bearing the Soviet sickle and hammer and sang the "International" and "The Red Flag." They shouted to bystanders: "You'll Be With Us Soon, too, Brother."

Later thousands of radicals and unemployed sang of world revolution outside the walls of Wormwood Scrubs Prison. Inside a convict chorus set up an answering refrain.

and has bought only $15,900,000 worth.

Russia is now Germany's best customer and the American engineers, untroubled by any political feelings, cannot see why the Russian trade is going to Germany when the Russians would prefer to buy American goods. The Russians cannot understand why American firms are demanding what the Russians claim are unreasonable credit terms when compared with terms available to them in other countries. And above all, both the Americans and the Russians cannot understand why the large American firms who are doing or are capable of doing business with Russia do not protest more strenuously against the activities of the Fish Committee, which, the American specialists say, have prejudiced American manufacturers and bankers against Russian trade.

If you ask my Opinion

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for a personal reply.

DEAR MRS. CARR: Shall I send a card or a gift to a boy I have known about two weeks? When you have initial stationery engraved do you use the first last initial? JUST WONDERING.

Wait until you have known the boy longer before you bestow these gifts. If you have engraved stationery, a monogram would be prettier—two or three initials.

DEAR MRS. CARR: A very dear friend of mine has been going with a girl for over a year. This last summer she went to camp. She wrote only two letters to this boy and when he went to see her after her return she treated him very coldly. Thinking that her attitude would change, he gave her a very nice ring. Just a friendship ring, but still that did not change her ways. She has now told this boy, for no reason at all, that she doesn't want to go with him any more. He is wondering whether it would be proper to ask for the ring. He had a birthday in July when she gave him a wrist-watchband. He likes it and wonders if he should ask to keep it and offer to pay her for it. This boy cares awfully much for her and the way she has done has just broken his heart. M. L. C.

If I were in his place I should be too proud to ask for that ring, unless it was extremely expensive. When she will, if she knows what good form is, send it back voluntarily. If it is just a trinket, let it go. Say nothing about the wrist band. It would be in very bad taste to offer money for it, and if that, too, is just a simple gift, she will not expect it back. She may think better of the whole thing and call back, but it would seem small to speak of the gift and wouldn't help attract her again. He is sure to recover from the broken heart.

DEAR FRIEND: When asked a question by an older person, man or woman, what is the proper answer, "Yes, Sir," or "Yes, Ma'am," or just "Yes." 2.—Should the napkins be placed on the plate or on the table when more than one place of silver is used on each side of the plate? 3.—When the dinner is not to be served in courses, where should the salad be placed? WONDERING.

The proper answer to an older person is, "Yes, Mrs. Evans," "Yes, Mr. Green," "No, Mrs. Evans," "No, Mr. Green." The name must be used. It is not good form for any but servants to use the "sir" or "ma'am," though in offices, a superior is sometimes addressed as "Sir."

2.—The napkin is laid on the plate. 3.—The plate of salad is set at the left of the dinner plate.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am 19 years old and have been married only a year. But already my husband seems tired of me and seeks entertainment elsewhere. I am very unhappy and would like to interest him in myself once more. Would you advise making him jealous? That would be very easy for me, as I am considered attractive by others.—DOLEFUL DORA.

Your remedy is a trifle uncertain in its results sometimes, and often starts more trouble than it remedies, except in certain conditions. Why not take stock of his interests and tastes and try to be adaptable and clever about them?

DEAR MARTHA CARR: You have helped me before when I asked you a very important question. Now for another problem: I am to be married at Thanksgiving. I wish to wear a white satin afternoon dress, white shoes and hose, and carry a bouquet of orange blossoms and have a wreath around my head. It will likely be in the minister's home. Do you think I can get by without wearing a veil? I have wondered, too, what sort of a coat to wear, as I would be cold without it.

The man I am to marry has two sisters. I am fond of the older, but have to ask the younger to be a bridesmaid as she is nearer our age. My brother is best man. Can I have the other, too, or must I have a bridesmaid? Our house is too small for a reception.—MARY FRANCIS.

A veil is always so pretty and bridelike. Why not wear one? It must be short for such an occasion. But, of course, you are not compelled to wear one.

If you ask another usher or groomsmen, you could have the other girl.

A somewhat dressy coat, all black with fur, velvet or cloth, would be quite all right—or a light coat if you prefer. Even a short velvet wrap.

Telephone or tell your nearest friends that you are to be married and if you like send out announcements afterwards to others.

Woman Farmer Leads Clubs

Mrs. David S. Long Combines Homely Chores With Executive Post

—By Marguerite Martyn

BACK to the land advocates have in Mrs. David S. Long of Longcrest Farm, near Harrisonville, a shining vindication of the claim we hear them make that the wife of a farmer need not live an isolated existence nowadays. While assuming her full share of all the tasks that devolve upon a farmer's wife, Mrs. Long, at the same time, has come to be the leading club woman of the State. She was elected president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs last April.

It is a modern farm specializing in pure bred stock, equipped with all the most improved machinery. Still we know that raising 500 chickens, which was one of Mrs. Long's individual contributions last spring, is something that requires more than mechanical care.

She has not surrendered other homely tasks and duties to the executive job she has undertaken. She still plays the piano every Sunday in church and she refuses to neglect the social life which she feels is due her family, the family consisting of two boys still in school and her husband, a physician. Yet 375 women representatives of the 85 federated clubs meeting her upon her first visit to the Eighth District at a reciprocity meeting held by the Monday Club in Webster Groves last week found her keenly alive to all the many projects the clubs are engaged upon and in addition others which she intended to introduce during her administration.

She is young looking, her short wavy bobbed hair slightly tinged with gray, handsome, with a pair of radiant dark eyes and the air of a person who is in the habit of getting things done.

She was also present at the biennial meeting of the Eighth District at the Coronado Hotel today. One of her ambitions is the introduction of the study and application of mental hygiene by club women. Protection of roadside beauty and the reduction of Missouri's lamentable illiteracy records are included in her plans.

"There are certain rules of physical hygiene which we have come to understand and live by," she said in an interview. "Likewise there are certain rules by which a wholesome state of mental health can be brought about. Mental hygiene is a less explored field, but we can make a start. We can sow the seeds of stimulus and interest in the understanding of human psychology."

"Our greatest project, one of national scope, is on behalf of world peace," she continued. The General Federation council at Phoenix last April set up the task of obtaining the signatures of 1,000,000 women to two petitions, one to be sent to the Senate asking that the United States join the World Court, the other to be submitted at the disarmament council to be held in Geneva in 1932. The General Federation also reaffirmed its faith in the eighteenth amendment as it has at every council and convention. "Personally," said Mrs. Long, "I am dismayed to see some of our own members lending themselves to modification propaganda. Propaganda is a tremendous force. With so many of us I believe it is just a desire to keep up with somebody else. Everybody is doing it, we hear, so we fall in line. Now if each of us who sincerely believes in the law would stop and assert, I am somebody. My opinion should count as well as another's. What a strong chain on the positive side of the question all we somebodies could make."

ONE department of work undertaken by the clubs is the betterment of motion pictures to be an almost overwhelming task. "We are up against the third largest and richest corporation in the world," she said, "we have all ready learned we can accomplish nothing by militant crusading. The courts, the press and many other powerful agencies are antagonistic to anything which suggests censorship. Our best plan is to encourage the better pictures with positive support. Go out of our way, get on the telephone, urge our friends to make it a financial success, while withholding our support and wherever we have the opportunity, condemning the unworthy ones. "We have tried such a plan in Harrisonville when Disraeli was shown, for example, and while increased receipts were not sufficient to make-out an outstanding box office success, our local exhibitor said he felt repaid by the superior intelligence and appreciation of the audience. Many individual exhibitors are on our side in this matter. They would like to reject pictures of a demoralizing influence, but they are at the mercy of the bloc system by which they must accept all films sent to them. That is our greatest handicap."

"Our clubs have in force a system by which none of our members need be deceived about the type of picture. It is a chart mailed to each of us by the committee headed by a former General Federation president, Alice Ames Winter, maintained in Hollywood for the purpose of disseminating this information. This chart classifies a picture according to its merit, artistic and ethical, its suitability to adult or juvenile audience, its whole character. None of us need support an unworthy picture."

"We are not too discouraged about the picture situation," she concluded. "We see the tastes of the American people improving. We are sure that the matter of evolution, education, development. Club women can do their part at hastening these forces along."

When mailing home-made candy, wrap each piece in waxed paper before packing it into the box. It is the only way to be certain of its safe arrival.

Talks to PARENTS

By Alice Judson Peale

Organizing

EVERY spring and every fall the average American home goes through a number of changes. Even when by some special dispensation there is no moving to be gone through, there are usually many problems to consider.

Each member of the family has new needs, new interests, which must be met and planned for. The fall is as fine a time as any in which to audit the account of the home. The habits of the winter have been broken by the summer's interval.

There is a chance to profit by the mistakes and lacks of the past in making our plans for the coming year of work and school and play.

This may be the psychological moment for getting the family together to co-operate on better standards of promptness, orderliness and a new sharing of responsibilities in the housekeeping.

Perhaps some thoughtful planning will make it possible for the girls to have the separate rooms they have long desired. Perhaps mother can organize her housekeeping differently so as to be less hurried and tired just before dinner, and so have more time to read to the little ones before putting him to bed.

In this sort of planning it is important to keep a perspective on values, to decide what is worth sacrificing for, and which things are truly important for the success of family life.

One should study how to help and develop one child without letting another feel that his needs are neglected, and should keep in mind the happiness of each individual while planning for a smoothly functioning home.

A new interpretation of the tiny hat fad is a close-fitting velvet chapeaux with a twisted-roll brim. Felt is also used. The creation of this hat and sometimes a perky bow is set toward the back of the left side.

Work for the Hemstitcher.

When sending basted articles to the hemstitcher, mark the lines to be stitched with a decidedly contrasting color so that no places will be missed. Silk bastings will pull out much more easily than those done in cotton.

This Breakfast Puts "SPARKLE" in All the Day

START YOUR DAY with a dish of SUNSWEET California Prunes. A big dish!

What a great start for a great day... at home, at school, or office!

You will like them, of course. They are one of the tastiest of fruits. But SUNSWEETS are more than just a treat... they are Nature's own way to good health.

California sunshine saturates them with sunshine vitamins and the valuable mineral salts.

Best of all... Nature supplies them with an extra measure of natural fruit tissue or cellulose... food "roughage" in its natural and most valuable form.

As a result, SUNSWEETS are gently laxative. They stimulate sluggish elimination in a natural and wholesome way. End sluggish elimination and you end a world of troubles.

SUNSWEETS are true tree-ripened prunes. They are never picked or knocked from the trees. They hang in the sunshine until so heavy with natural fruit sugar they drop of their own weight. The last few days on the trees mean everything to prunes.

A dish of SUNSWEETS for breakfast... say three times a week... will give you energy and promote your good health.

Buy them in the handy 1- and 2-lb. cartons. The carton keeps them clean and fresh. Besides... the prunes are sealed in... you know you are getting genuine tree-ripened SUNSWEETS.

Medium, Large or Extra Large size fruit... size marked on every carton.

SUNSWEETS are not only one of the most tasty and healthful of fruits, but at today's low prices they are one of the most economical of foods as well.

Weather Prophet

"I'm sure you don't have to be told what is meant when someone says another is a good weather prophet."

"Our auntie is a wonderful weather prophet," Peggy said. "When we want to go on a picnic we always ask her if it is going to rain."

"So you know all about good weather prophets, but come with me and we're going to meet another good one."

"We'll go off to one of the swamps, but it's pretty dry there now. There hasn't been much rain lately. I've turned the time back to the summer days."

So John and Peggy went with the Little Black Clock to visit a small chorus of little piping sounds. They became more and more excited as they piped their notes, but when John and Peggy tried to find the owners of the voices it was impossible to do so.

The Little Black Clock laughed. "They're the best hide-and-seek players I know," he said. "I hear them and go where you sure they are, only to find that they're in an entirely different direction, still piping away."

"They are the little tree frogs, and they are good weather prophets."

"When the hot summer days are with us and when you hear them piping away like this you can look up at the sky and you'll find great heavy clouds which show that we're going to have a heavy downpour in hardly any time at all."

And now, as the children looked up at the sky there were the heavy clouds. Certainly the tree frogs were good weather prophets as well as being so clever at hide-and-seek. It was beginning to rain!

She was thinking, however, new with an immensity of repair that there was just a thing left for her to do.
